THE STATEN ISLAND JUBILEE.

Grand Torchlight Procession.

Military and Civic Parade—Mottoes, Transparencies, Illuminations, &c.

The people of Staten Island had a celebration last night at the Quarantine landing. On Tuesday evening, the 26th of April, a public meeting was held in Tompkinsville, at which resolutions were passed, unanimously, to the effect that the Staten Islanders felt bound, "in view of the recent action of the Legislature, and the prospect of a sure and speedy removal of Quarantine," to indulge in some exhibition of the popular satisfaction therewith. It was further resolved that the demonstration should consist of a "general illumination and torchlight procession." Last night was fixed upon, and last night the fête came off.

It was considered a very grand affair. Indeed everybody seemed to have made that a foregone conclusion. From noon till dark, people kept gathering about the hotels, and lolled or strolled around in a state of oriental listlessness, which was subjected to occasional interruptions by the arrival of a boat, or a friendly call to the bar.

At rare intervals some more enlivening episode occurred to break the monotony. The hero of one of these variations was JACK FINNERTY, an Irishman of peculiar tastes, who perambulates the Island in a very promiscuous manner, and claims intimacy with every man, woman and child in the County. JACK made his appearance on the Green in front of Burns' Hotel, late in the afternoon, and soon drew around him an admiring audience of exceedingly small and boisterous boys. JACK wore a blue military cap trimmed with tarnished gold tissue, a red frockcoat trimmed with deep blue facings, and a heavy pair of brogues. To preserve the toute ensemble, he had rolled up his trousers to his knees, after the manner of the Continentals, and in such a way as to exhibit not only the woollen texture of the stockings, but the fidelity of the washerwoman to whose lavatory care the stockings aforesaid had been confided.

For a sash he wore the dilapidated cord and tassels of some old window hangings from some old house, whose owner had probably changed quarters on Monday last. A rusty scabbard and rustier sword completed his accoutrements. He asked the band to play a jig, but, at the most promising moment, RAY TOMPKINS appeared, raised his finger threateningly, and poor JACK subsided as if he had been shot.

As the darkness fell, the people gathered, and the enthusiasm proportionately rose. Lamps, cigars and torches were lighted; fireworks and champagne corks were let off; spirits and rockets rose and fell. At length came the muster for the procession. At the head of the first division appeared Mr. R. HENRY CAREY as Aid, under whom were a body of Pioneers with torches, WALLACE'S Band, the Seventy-third Regiment, (Col. G. A. OSGOOD commanding,) and a wagon containing GRANT'S Calcium Lights. The second division, which was commanded by Mr. CHARLES H. STEBBINS, as aid-de-camp, was composed of the Tompkinsville Fire Police, followed by ROBERTSON'S Band; Enterprise Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, Lady Washington Engine Company No. 1, Cataract Engine Company No. 2, Port Richmond Engine Company No 3, New-Brighton Engine Company No. 4, D. D. Tompkins' Engine Company No. 5, Atlantic Hose, Neptune Engine Company, Neptune Hose, Protection Engine Company, and Excelsior Bucket Company.

The third division was commanded by Mr. HENRY CRABTREE, as Aid, and was preceded by WHITWORTH'S Band. It consisted of the Fisherman's Association, in a boat drawn by horses and decorated with transparencies illustrative of the fisherman's calling; a "convivial party" in a spacious wagon, the said party being provided with an inexhaustible supply of lager bier and whisky, which were dispensed with no sparing hand to the passers-by; invited guests and citizens in private carriages; SHELTON'S Band followed by the Harmonia Association; citizens four abreast, and a long line of miscellaneous spectators.

The line of march was south, through Griffin-street to the Shore Road, thence to Gore-street and Richmond Road, passing through Van Duzer, Grove, Richmond, Hannah and Sarah Ann streets, Richmond Turnpike, Tompkins-avenue, New-Brighton, Jersey, Third-avenue, Westervelt-avenue to First-avenue the place of starting. Nine out of ten of all the houses on the route were illuminated, many of them gorgeously. Among the most prominent of these, we noticed H. Mendell's residence, the trees in front being hung were variegated lanterns; Muller's lager-bier saloon; Albert Ward's large residence on the hill; Miss Millikie's; Dr. Herzker's, Charles H. Stebbins' private residence Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, Bechtel's saloon, Park House, S. H. Brick's; the entire street along "Slam's-row" was spendidly illuminated,—Mrs. Jackes', J. R. Robinson's, H. B. Metcalf's, Mr. McAndrews' cottage and Mr. O'Connell's were very tastefully ornamented. So also were William Cuthbertson's, John Austin's, the Hon. Robert Christie, Jr.'s, Dejonge & Co.'s, Decker's, Dr. Richardson's and Dr. Anderson's—the latter being particularly noticeable for its elaborate and striking display, which drew forth repeated cheers from the procession.

In addition to these were the houses of Mr. Freeland, of the steamer Southfield, and Jacob B. Wood, Supervisor of the town of Castleton, and many others.

Among the mottos displayed were the following:

"Torches before fever, and the Thompsonian doctrine advocated here. Oh, hear!"

Upon Gersler's Hotel, Stapleton,

"Our Big Ray against their Little John."

On one of the wagons was written:

"The Sepoys in Luck now."

And on another:

"We go in for lager bier, not for yellow fever."

At the turn of the procession, on the south end, I passed beneath two arches spanning the road, and bearing the inscription:

"The Sepoys' arch."

And

"No longer the victims of foreign pestilence."

On Rocky Hollow there was not a house without some illumination, and the inscriptions were of the most significant character, several of them exhibiting the mystic letters:

"O. P. Q."

Among these were:

"The 2d of September.
As also the 3d of May,
Forever we'll remember—
O. P. Q."

And:

"Thou art gone from my gaze—
O. P. Q."

Another resident, with an eye to the main chance, displayed above his door:

"SEPOY GROCERY STORE."

The procession passed through the most notable villages in the Island, was enthusiastically cheered on every hand, and, having again reached Tompkinsville, was greeted by a splendid display of fireworks, with which, to say nothing of the hospitalities prearranged by the Committee of Management, the celebration concluded.

Soon after 12 o'clock the Hunchback left the landing, and conveyed to New-York the invited guests.

Inside the Quarantine grounds there was no apprehension among the officers of Quarantine that any violence would be attempted by the residents of the Island, but the force detailed by the Superintendent of Police was sent down merely as a precaution to hold in check any rowdyism that might manifest itself among outsiders. The police confined themselves wholly to the inside of the walls, and patrolled their respective beats with as little concern as if they were upon ordinary duty. There are now only two patients, convalescent, of ship fever, in the Marine Hospital. During the last three days some twenty cases of small-pox of a mild type have been received, and all will, doubtless, recover. There were eight of the employes discharged a few days since, and the force now employed for the care of the sick and upon ordinary duties is far below what it has been during any time for the last ten years. As soon as arrangements can be made by the Commissioners for Removal of Quarantine for the reception of patients elsewhere, it is expected that no more of the sick will be admitted to the Marine Hospital. All vessels from yellow fever ports, or those having sickness of an infectious character on board, will be boarded in the lower bay, where the sick will be placed in hulks, and the vessels detained. Arrangements will probably be made for breaking out their cargoes and storing them in buildings to be erected for the purpose on Sandy Hook. The present Quarantine station will be retained only as the residence of the Health Officer and his assistants, and as a boarding station. Thus it is expected that a long stride will be taken, even during the present season, for the removal of the whole establishment.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Leave of Absence for the Count de Sartiges—Condition of the Treasury—Appropriations by the Last Congress, &c.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 3.

The Count DE SARTIGES received leave of absence to-day, and will leave immediately for France. He does not contemplate returning, though no successor has yet been named.

The amount in the Treasury subject to draft yesterday was $6,850,000.

Secretary COBB will return on Saturday.

Señor MATA received dispatches from Mexico today, but nothing of interest beyond what has already been published. Q.

[FROM THE REPORTER FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 3.

The receipts into the Treasury for the quarter ending April 1 were nearly $22,500,000, including upwards of $13,000,000 from the customs, and between eight and nine millions from the loan of 1858. The expenditures for the same period were nearly $18,000,000, including $3,000,000 in payment of the Treasury notes issued under the Act of December, 1857.

The steamers Fulton and Water Witch have been ordered to Norfolk for repairs. It is understood their crews are to be retained for further and immediate service.

The official statement just prepared for publication shows that Congress at the last Session appropriated for Legislative, Executive, civil and miscellaneous purposes, nearly $11,000,000; for the diplomatic and consular service, $1,048,000; for the Indian Department, revolutionary, invalid, and other pensions, upward of $3,250,000; for army fortifications and the military academy, $15,249,000; for the naval service, $10,527,000; and for the Ocean Mail steam service, $341,229—making a total of $41,367,699. In addition to the above, about $7,000,000 should be added for indefinite appropriations, and to carry out the provisions of pre-existing laws, including the collection of revenues from the customs.

Gen. JEREZ, the Nicaraguan Minister, will return home in the steamer of the 5th of June, whatever may be the determination of our Government regarding the pending treaty.

The health of Gen. CASS continues to improve, and it is thought he will be able to resume his duties at the State Department in a day or two.

Meeting of the American Medical Convention.

LOUISVILLE, Tuesday, May 3.

The American Medical Convention opened its session in this city to-day. Twenty-five States and Territories are represented by two hundred and fifty delegates. The Convention was organized by the choice of HARVEY LINDSLEY, of Washington, as President, and S. M. BEMIS, of this city, and A. G. SEMMES, of Washington, as Secretaries. A Committee was appointed to nominate the annually-elected officers. The President then proceeded to deliver the annual address.

The Convention of Medical Teachers.

LOUISVILLE, Tuesday, May 3.

The Convention of Medical Teachers met again to-day.

Dr. FLINT, of Louisville, tendered a welcome to the delegates in behalf of the State Medical Society.

The annual report was adopted.

Resolutions were passed that every paper intended for publication in the Transactions be thoroughly prepared, and placed in the hands of the Committee on Publication by the 1st of June, and the proof returned within two weeks after their reception by the authors.

The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year:

President—HENRY MILLER, of Kentucky.
Vice-Presidents—H. F. Asken, of Delaware; Chas. S. Tripler, of United States Army; L. A. Smith, of New-Jersey; Calvin West, of Indiana.
Treasurer—Casper Wistar, of Pennsylvania.
Secretary—S. M. Bemiss, of Kentucky.

Mr. MILLER made a brief and eloquent address on taking the chair.

A vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers.

But two or three reports on special subjects were made, in consequence of the remissness of Special Committees in preparing them.

Adjourned till to-morrow.

Arrival of the Remains of Mr. Yeager at Easton.

EASTON, Tuesday, May 3.

The remains of Mr. YEAGER arrived here at three o'clock this afternoon, in charge of J. L. MINGLE and C. P. HAUSE, the Committee. There was quite a large crowd at the depot, and the streets through which the hearse passed were thronged with citizens, anxious to get even a glimpse of the box containing the remains. The remains were taken to the residence of the deceased, where the wooden box was taken off, and the coffin, a handsome metallic one, lifted out and the covering over the glass removed, so that the throng could get a view of the features of the deceased. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, and the funeral sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. GREENWALD.

Convention of the National Typographical Union.

BOSTON, Tuesday, May 3.

At the session to-day of the National Typographical Convention, a proposed amendment to the general laws, striking out the provision requiring five years service to render apprentices eligible to membership in Unions, was laid on the table. The report of the Executive Committee, with accompanying documents, relative to memorializing Congress for a Printers' Bureau at Washington, was also tabled, with the understanding that it is not to be taken up again.

Marine Disasters.

NORFOLK, Tuesday, May 3.

The British brig Vestal, of Greenock, from Pernambuco, bound to Baltimore, with a cargo of sugar, is ashore near Cape Henry.

The British brig Giaour, of St. Johns, N. F., from Pernambuco, with sugar, is also ashore near Cape Henry. Assistance has been sent down.

Telegraphic Feat.

BUFFALO, Tuesday, May 3.

Direct communication with New-Orleans has been had this morning, the lines having been connected through, and everything worked finely. The following are the latest New-Orleans markets:

"Strawberries about played out. Green peas and new potatoes plenty."

Should the weather be fine on Saturday evening, the experiment of working direct from New-York to New-Orleans, via this city, will be tried."

Col. Lockridge's Expedition.

NEW-ORLEANS, Tuesday, May 3.

Col. LOCKRIDGE'S agent at Pike's Peak reports that numerous disappointed miners are joining his expedition.

Movements of Messrs. Cobden and Osborne.

WHEELING, Va., Tuesday, May 3.

Messrs. COBDEN and OSBORNE arrived here this morning, much pleased with their trip. They speak in high terms of the Baltimore and Ohio Road, and the scenery along the route.

Philadelphia City Election.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, May 3.

The election here, to-day, for various municipal officers, passed off quietly. It is generally conceded that Dr. JAMES MCCLINTOCK, Democrat, is elected City Treasurer, and that the Democrats will probably have a majority in the Councils.

Sailing of the Arabia.

BOSTON, Tuesday, May 3.

The Royal Mail steamship Arabia sails from this port to-morrow at about noon for Liverpool. Her mails close at the Post-office at 9 A. M.

Fugitive Slave Case in Zanesville, Ohio.

ZANESVILLE, Tuesday, May 3.

A fugitive slave, named JACKSON, of Clarksburgh, Va., was arrested here last night, and taken before Judge MARSH, who this morning decided that the prisoner was illegally held, and discharged him. Immediately after his discharge he was rearrested, put in irons, and driven to the dépôt, for the purpose of taking him to Wheeling.

A desperate effort was made by the negroes to rescue him, and during the excitement clubs and pistols were freely used, and several persons were badly injured. The attempt at rescue proved unsuccessful. Meanwhile a writ was served on the Marshal commanding him to bring the prisoner before the Court. This point has not yet been settled. The excitement in regard to the matter still continues very great.

Sad Affair in North Adams, Mass.

BOSTON, Tuesday, May 3.

In North Adams, on Sunday, Miss MARTHA BUTLER, a respectable and accomplished young lady, died suddenly. On her death-bed she accused CHARLES K. LITTLEFIELD, Cashier of the Adams Bank, with her ruin. He has fled, leaving a wife and several children. The bank accounts are all right.

Death of a Prisoner while Attempting to Escape.

BOSTON, Tuesday, May 3.

A. T. GIELING, a young German, jumped from the cars last night, and was killed. He was on the way to Boston, in charge of a New-York officer, to answer for robbing his employer, Dr. KEEP, a dentist, of this City.

The Wanderer Case Postponed.

SAVANNAH, Tuesday, May 3.

The Wanderer case has been postponed till the next term of the Circuit Court, on account of the non-arrest of Captain CORRIE. Three of the prisoners in jail were refused bail.

Congressional Nomination in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Tuesday, May 3.

The Democrats of the Ashland District have nominated Capt. W. E. SIMMS for Congress, vice the Hon. J. B. CLAY, who declined a renomination.

Non-Arrival of the Niagara.

HALIFAX, Tuesday, May 3—P. M.

There are as yet no signs of the Royal Mail steamship Niagara, now about due with Liverpool dates of April 23. Weather clear, with a westerly wind.

Arrival of the Augusta at Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Tuesday, May 3.

The steamship Augusta, from New-York, arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning. All well.

Naval Intelligence.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Friday, April 8, 1859.

The steamer Orizaba arrived here late on the night of the 5th, bringing the New-York passengers who left New-York in the Vanderbilt steamer Northern Light on the 9th, having been nearly twenty-eight days upon the passage. The overland mail leaving St. Louis on the 14th inst., arrived here on the night of the 6th inst. We have a statement here to the effect that after the Northern Light started from New-York, Mr. JONES, of the firm of WELLS, FARGO & Co., wagered $5,000 against Commodore VANDERBILT'S fast horses, that the passengers by overland mail, leaving St. Louis on the 14th, would reach San Francisco before those by the Vanderbilt steamer. The Commodore won, notwithstanding the long passage made by his steamer. Certainly it was a very hazardous wager that Mr. JONES proposed, for the regular line of steamers make the trip in from twenty-one to twenty-three days, while twenty-five days is the time allowed by contract to the overlanders, and it requires no small amount of energy and enterprise to make the distance in anything less than that time. Among the through passengers by the Overland stage was a Mrs. LOVEJOY, of Yreka, California—the first lady who has made the trip.

Quite a fleet of clippers have arrived within the last three days, besides a vessel from China and another from the Sandwich Islands. Among the clippers was the Andrew Jackson, Capt. J. E. WILLIAMS, which arrived in only 102 days from New-York. This is the quickest trip made this year or last. The other clipper arrivals are the Midnight, 124 days from Boston; Nonpariel, 115 days from New-York; Comet, 112 days from New-York; Gosport, 185 days from New-York. The ships Anna Kimball, 207 days from New-York, and Buena Vista, 283 days from Baltimore, with coal for the Panama Mail Steamship Company, and Moonlight, 150 days from New-York, have also arrived. The Moonlight reports that when in lat. 14 N. long. 31 W., she saw a vessel on fire—supposed to be the Manitou, from New-York to this port. Several vessels were in the vicinity, and it is supposed took off the crew, as no persons could be seen on board, although the Moonlight passed quite close. Her boats, too, were all gone.

Mr. JAMES FOUZER was tried and acquitted here yesterday, of the charge of murder, in having killed WM. DEBRIE. The latter, a man of family, seduced FOUZER'S daughter, a girl of fifteen years; and for a year or more after her child was born, was consequently pursuing her at her own home, for the renewal of their former intimacy. It appeared upon the trial that the daughter had resisted his advances; that FOUZER had felt deeply his daughter's disgrace, and that in the fear that the influence of DEBRIE over his weak-minded daughter, might prove stronger than her father's advice, the accused shot and killed the seducer while attempting to effect a clandestine meeting with his victim at her own parents' residence. The jury justified the act and returned a verdict of "Not guilty."

In political affairs we have little news. The Democracy of California being invincible when united have fallen to quarreling among themselves, and the prospect is that they will have a lively time in their Conventions during the next few months. A United States Senator is to be elected by the Legislature next to be chosen, and nominations for that body as well as for Congress and the Gubernatorial chair, will all be made with special reference to the Senatorial fight. Gov. WELLER is a candidate for rëelection, and Gen. DENVER, (late of Kansas,) and the Hon. MILTON S. LATHAM, are also understood to be in the field. Each of these, too, is a prospective candidate for the United States Senate. Should DENVER not be nominated for Governor, he will be likely to run for Congress in place of MCKIBBEN, and be elected. CALHOUN BENHAM contests the other Congressional nomination with C. L. SCOTT, late member, but the latter has the inside track, and will be apt to win. JOHN NUGENT says he will run for something, but if so, he will probably run alone.

The Democratic Central Committee of the State have no sympathy with the Douglas movement, and have provided a test to govern the primary meetings throughout the State, to wit—that the participator therein shall declare that he voted for the regular Lecompton ticket last August, or that he indorses the platform upon which that ticket was placed. Thus the Democratic organization have cast defiance to DOUGLAS, BRODERICK and all others who do not approve and indorse Mr. BUCHANAN'S Kansas policy. Nevertheless the Lecomptonites are pretty certain to carry the State.

The Legislature is still in session, but has accomplished little beyond passing the law providing for the calling of a Constitutional Convention. The San Francisco bulk-head bill, which proposes to place the wharves of the port entirely in the hands of half-a-dozen monopolists now seems likely to fail.

A Coroner's Jury, in the case of victims in the Contra-Costa ferry-boat explosion, have declared that the explosion resulted from "the rapid accumulation of steam while working the engine slow, and which should have been relieved by the engineer by raising the safety-valve." It is very evident that this sad affair, by which six men met with a sudden death, was the result of criminal carelessness. The case will be rigidly prosecuted against the delinquent engineer. The skin of a human hand, with nails and fingers complete, has been found in the bow of the wrecked steamer. Its appearance leads to the supposition that it is the only remnant yet found of the remains of M. G. SMITH, the bar-keeper.

It is feared that two gentlemen of Napa, Messrs. GRIGSBY and HALDA, have been murdered and robbed in the mountains. They left Napa City some two months ago, directly across the mountains for Humboldt Bay, on the coast, to attend the land sales, taking with them a large amount of money, since when nothing has been heard of them; a party will leave soon to trace them, if possible, and learn their fate.

A Mr. MARLOW, of Iowa Hill, but formerly of Wisconsin, committed suicide a few days since. Some months ago, learning of the death of his wife in Wisconsin, which affected him seriously, he was about to return to the East to provide for his motherless daughter, but was prevented through the dishonesty of some person with whom he had entrusted his means, and that fact doubtless prompted his rash act.

CORNELIUS BROWN, a native of Nova Scotia, was killed by the caving of a bank at St. Louis, Sierra County.

The skeleton of a little child four years old, supposed to have been the daughter of a widow SIMMONS, was found on the Sand hills back of the city, a day or two since. The child disappeared mysteriously about eighteen months ago, and could not be found. It is supposed that she wandered over the hills and perished by starvation, almost within sight of her mother's door. The bereaved woman left for the Atlantic States some three months ago.

HANNAH ANN HALL has commenced a suit for divorce against her husband, WM. HENRY HALL. The parties were married on 1st of April, 1855, and have two children. She alleges cruelty, neglect to provide means of subsistence, threats, etc.

The miners throughout the State are doing well, and labor continues high. In addition to the fair wages almost always made in the mines, the toilers are frequently rewarded with rich nuggets. One worth $2,000 was found the other day at Bath, Placer County, imbedded in the bank 130 feet above the bed-rock. From the frequent instances in which large masses of gold are found in various strata of earth lying one above another, the conclusion is drawn by some of our "experts," that gold deposits have been made at different periods of the earth's history, and not by one grand "blow-out," as our miners generally believe.

FROM SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

The steamer Senator arrived yesterday, from ports on the Southern Coast, bringing late dates from San Diego, Los Angelos, and Santa Barbara. Among her passengers were Col. MANSFIELD and Major LEE, both of the United States Army. The expedition under Col. HOFFMAN against the Mohaves left Fort Yuma on the 27th ult., marching up the north bank of the Colorado. The steamer General Jessup left at the same time by the river, with supplies, and will keep near the command all the way. A new steamer, to be called the Co co-pah, has just been shipped from San Francisco for the Colorado. She draws only twelve inches of water, and will navigate the upper part of the river.

A shock of earthquake is reported at San Diego, at 5:20 A. M. of 21st March, which shook the old abobes comfortably. No damage done.

Capt. ANCRUM, an old settler, died at Fort Yuma recently, and was buried with Masonic honors.

The vine-growers of Los Angelos entertain serious apprehensions of the loss of this year's crop, in consequence of unusually severe and dry winds, which absorb the sap from the vines, leaving them to wither and dry up. Fears were also entertained for the wheat and barley crops, from the same cause.

Dr. J. P. RODGERS, according to the Los Angelos Vineyard, has spent four months in exploring the country bordering on the Colorado, for a distance of 150 miles above Fort Yuma. He reports a large extent of country to the east of the Colorado to be auriferous—but that the scarcity of water and the excessive heat, during a greater part of the year, will prove a serious drawback upon the successful extraction of the gold, which is diffused generally throughout the region lying in the angle of the two rivers, east of the Colorado and north of the Gila. The Salt River, a tributary of the Gila, is supposed to drain a rich gold country, but exploring parties have been deterred from its examination by hostile Indians.

The recent Indian difficulties in San Diego County were about being amicably adjusted.

LATER FROM THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.

The Mexican bark Adelaida arrived here on the afternoon of the 5th inst., bringing dates from Honolulu to the 7th March, being two weeks later.

There had been a good deal of excitement at Honolulu in regard to the discovery of guano islands. The bark Gambia, of that port, had sailed for French Frigate Reef, carrying men and means to work the guano deposits recently found there by the United States Surveying schooner Fenimore Cooper. This reef is situated west northwest of the Hawaiian islands, and the deposits are claimed to be richer than those of Jarvis island, belonging to the American Guano Company of New York City. The schooner E. L. Frost, which arrived at Honolulu on the 14th March, reports the discovery of new and very rich guano islands, the location of which is kept secret however. Specimens of the article which were exhibited seemed very rich. Holes were dug into the deposits to the depth of five feet without reaching the bottom. A Honolulu firm were preparing to take possession of and work the islands at once.

It is stated that Gambia was fitted out by Lieut. BROOKE, who commands the Fenimore Cooper, and who claims to have taken possession of the French Frigate Reef deposits in his own name and for his own benefit. Previous to publishing his notice of intention to take this course, an American citizen had made up a company for the same destination, and it was feared that a collision would occur between the two parties. It is to be hoped that there is some error in this statement, for if I mistake not the law of Congress authorizing the taking possession of guano islands by the United States expressly prohibits an officer of the United States from asserting any claim of his own arising from discovery while in service.

The Fenimore Cooper left Honolulu on the 5th March for the Japanese seas. JOSEPH HECO, the Japanese young man who was brought into San Francisco from a wreck some years ago, and was educated by Senator GWIN, left the Cooper at Honolulu, and took passage for Hong Kong on the clipper Sea Serpent.

The Spring fleet of whalers was returning slowly, and the catch was announced to be far from satisfactory.

Mr. TRIPP, first officer of the ship Mary and Susan, was killed by a whale early in December. He leaves a wife and two children in New-Bedford, Mass. His remains were to be sent home by the captain of the ship to which he belonged.

The English-born residents of the islands are raising subscriptions for the erection of a monument to the memory of Capt. COOK, at the spot where he fell at Kealakekua Bay, Hawaii.

The crater of Kilauea was still in a state of decided activity. A vessel arrived at Honolulu with a party of visitors, who had been to take a near view of the magnificent scene. The travelers had a hard time of it, were two days without water, traveling over clinkers, with their boots worn to tatters, and the blood during the last day marking their steps over the lava. It was supposed from the indications that a new crater had recently formed, and it was feared that Mr. VANDRY, the English traveler, had got between the new and old flows of lava, and was in a critical position.

Frightful Catastrophe on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

A LOCOMOTIVE BLOWN TO FRAGMENTS AND THREE MEN KILLED.

A catastrophe of a most appalling nature occurred this morning on the Pennsylvania Railroad, in the vicinity of Greensburgh. It appears that the ballast train was in service as usual, and that while on its way east, and within a short distance of Greensburgh the locomotive exploded with a tremendous report, killing three men and shattering the engine to pieces. JOHN DODDS, the Engineer, and Mr. WOODS, the Conductor, were killed instantly, and JOS. SPEELMAN, engaged as a fireman on the train, injured to an extent that he died in a few minutes. The engine, as we have stated, was blown to pieces, and so great was the force of the explosion, that parts of it were sent whirling in the air hundreds of feet from the scene of the disaster. Mr. DODDS resided in the city, and had been in the employ of the Company some five or six years. He leaves a young wife to mourn her bereavement. Mr. WOODS was a married man, and a careful and attentive officer. A wife and two children are deprived of the protection of a kind husband and affectionate father by his death. SPEELMAN resided somewhere on the mountain, and was, we believe, an unmarried man. The cause of the accident has not been stated, nor will it be known, we suppose, until the matter has been properly investigated. Since the above was written, we have seen Mr. JOHN H. HAMPTON, solicitor for the road, and he assures us that the accident was caused solely by the negligence of the engineer. The engine had just been overhauled, and was in excellent order, and, had ordinary care been used in her management, the explosion would not have occurred.—Pittsburgh Evening Chronicle, Monday.

The Washington States publishes the following: "Mr. McDermott, one of the jurors on the Sickles trial, requests us to state that the conversation between him and Mr. Brady, after Mr. Sickles' acquittal, did not occur at the National Hotel, but in the Court-room; and that he did not visit Mr. Brady's rooms after the verdict.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

Popular Sovereignty, and the Duty of Congress to protect Slave Property in the Territories.

On the 16th of March WM. F. SAMFORD, Esq., Editor of the Signal, published at New Auburn, Alabama, having hoisted the name of Gov. WISE for the Presidency, wrote to him to solicit an exposition of his views on the various questions that divide the country. Gov. WISE responded in a letter, which fills thirty columns of the Richmond Enquirer, and which goes over the whole ground of the Slavery Controversy. He had received at the same time a series of resolutions on the same subject passed by the Legislature of Vermont;—and this coincidence he considers "ominously suggestive of the sectional issues which are now agitating our Country, and of the results which threaten our peace." The whole subject resolves itself, he says, into these questions:

"Whether it is the duty of Congress, and whether Congress has the power, to protect the rights of persons and of property in the Territories, Districts and other places belonging to the United States?—and

What rights of persons and of property may Congress protect and how protect them, throughout the United States?"

Governor WISE then enters upon an exposition of the history of the Constitution and of its language, to prove in the first place that Congress has no power to tax slaves,—because it can impose no tax which is not uniform if indirect, and apportioned according to the census, if the tax is to be direct. Any tax upon slaves must be a direct tax:—and it must, therefore, be imposed upon the slaves of all the States and Territories, if it is to be imposed upon any of them. Hence a Territorial Legislature, which derives all its powers from Congress, cannot tax the slaves within its own jurisdiction,—because such taxation, not being uniform nor apportioned, would transcend the power of Congress. "Thus," Governor WISE concludes, "the Constitution protects against the unequal taxation of persons or property in the Territories."

The next point examined is the legislative power of Congress over the District of Columbia and places occupied as forts, dockyards, &c. And the conclusion which he reaches is, that this power being a federal power, to be exercised for common and confederate ends, embraces nothing of a different character;—and that Congress cannot abolish slavery in those places, because this is not such an end. As the District is designed to be a seat of government for the whole country, it must be a common ground for the whole: and Congress must protect the persons and the property of all alike "with all the privileges and rights of their respective States." Besides, Congress cannot take private property for public uses without compensating the owners. Emancipation would not be a "public use" within the meaning of the Constitution. Nor can Congress either use the money of the nation, or tax the people of the District, who are unrepresented and therefore not taxable,—for any such purpose. By the clause, moreover, which gives Congress power to make all laws necessary and proper for carrying into execution its conceded powers, Gov. WISE insists, "the means to prohibit Slavery is forbidden while the means to protect it are expressly given to Congress in the Territories and Districts and other places ceded,"—because the power to protect it is necessary and proper for the protection of the persons and property of confederates in the common Territory of the United States.

Gov. WISE denies that Congress can provide for electing the Governors and Secretaries of territories, because these are "officers of the United States" and as such are to be appointed by the President and Senate. Through this power of appointment, therefore, as well as by the Army and Navy, the President has the power of protecting equal rights in the territories. Upon this general subject of territorial government and the relations of the judiciary to it, Gov. WISE says:

"The Legislature of a Territory can pass no law which does not come under the jurisdiction of the Supreme and inferior Courts of the United States. The jurisdiction of the Supreme Court is fixed in its general outline by the Constitution, and Congress may constitute such inferior courts as its discretion may 'from time to time, ordain and establish.' The powers of the courts and the powers of the Congress combined reach every conceivable case of grievance or complaint. The whole civil as well as military powers of the nation are bound to preserve, protect and defend every right guaranteed by the Constitution. I regret to see that in a late debate in the Senate, this judicial power alone was relied on. We have shown, I think, that Congress and the Executive are alike bound to this duty of protection; but still this judicial power alone, if exerted and faithfully applied, is all-sufficient in itself to prevent the execution of unconstitutional laws. Yet it can afford protection only against unconstitutional laws or against the infraction of constitutional laws. In the case where persons or property may be left without sufficient protection by legislative enactment, the courts have no power whatever to supply the deficiency of protection occasioned by such legislative omission. Bear in mind that we have shown that there can be no such thing as local legislation, strictly speaking, in a Territory. It can have a Legislature of its own, if authorized by Congress, but that Legislature is not local in any sense like that for the District of Columbia, as we have shown. It is Federal and National in every sense. Its authority is Federal—its ends and aims must all be Federal, and its laws must conform to Naitonal and Federal uses and purposes. Does it provide for police? Does it authorize a ferry, or the building of a bridge, or the establishment of schools? Remember that all these things are done derivatively by authority of Congress, and none can be done but what Congress may authorize in a Territory, and that all these things are done in a Territory of the United States for the Federal purpose of improving, developing and settling a part of the national domain. They are done more for the United States, by United States authority, than for any territorial or local ends: the Territory has no ends not ends of the United States, and no authority whatever but what is conferred by Congress."

Governor WISE next proceeds to derive from the clause of the Constitution which gives to the citizens of each State "all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States," the right of Slaveholders to take their slaves into Territories and hold them there in spite of Territorial and other adverse legislation; and that it is the duty of the Federal Government in all its departments—Executive, Legislative and Judicial—to protect them in the enjoyment of that right. He then goes on to show that up to the Kansas-Nebraska acts the laws of Congress organizing Territories were made in pursuance of this construction of the Constitution. All the Territories under the Confederation, belonging to the United States, were organized under deeds of cession from particular States, and the terms and conditions of these cessions made them wholly dependent on Congress for their municipal rule and regulation. And the same principle of Territorial subordination was maintained with regard to territory acquired under the Constitution. The only instance in which Squatter Sovereignty was ever attempted to be exercised, down to the period of the Utah monstrosities, Governor WISE says, was when the inhabitants of what was then the western part of North Carolina set up a State Government for themselves, and called the State Franklin—and this was promptly reduced to a Territorial condition by the intervention of the Federal Government. And Governor WISE proceeds to show that in the organization of Governments for Territories afterwards acquired by purchase from France and Spain, the same principle of Congressional intervention was steadily maintained, and full provision was made for protecting rights of property; and so in regard to Texas and the territory acquired by treaty with Mexico. The prohibition of slavery, by the famous ordinance of 1789, was valid, because it was a compact between the States ceding the northwest territory and the Confederation—but this validity lasted only until the adoption of the Constitution, which then secured to all the people of the United States the proequal rights within the Territory. So all the provisions of treaties, laws of the country from which acquisitions were made, &c., became at once invalid if inconsistent with the Federal Constitution. Governor WISE, upon this general subject, lays down these propositions:

No matter how territory has been acquired, under the Constitution, it must be

First—Common to all.

Second—For Confederate uses and purposes.

Third—Governed by Federal legislation, whether it be local or Congressional—still Federal and National. And—

Fourth—It matters not whether the laws of the country from which the territory was derived recognized the right or not before, the right immediately arose and became positive the moment the Territory became the common territory of the United States. And—

Fifth—No treaty could or can control this supremacy of the Constitution of the United States, securing equality and community of rights, privileges and immunities in the territory of the Union.

Gov. WISE next examines the legislation of Congress in organizing all the territorial governments, and in regard to the admission of Texas. In the latter instance, he says, were established these principles:

First—That States, as well with slavery as without it, as well without it as with it, should be admitted into the Union. That that should not be constitutional on one side of a line which was unconstitutional on the other; that there was no sectional geographical line of rights in the Constitution. And,

Second—That the organic will of the people, their State Constitution, not Territorial laws, might prescribe, "at the time of their admission," whether they would have slavery or not, or be admitted with or without it.

He next examines the Kansas-Nebraska bill and the new principles which it is supposed to have introduced. The declaration of the bill that the Compromise measures of 1850 involved the principle of non-intervention, he says is untrue,—and he thus points out the consequences of this concession:

NON-INTERVENTION FAVORABLE TO THE ANTI-SLAVERY PARTY.

It was a fatal admission on the part of Southern Senators and Representatives who voted for this clause of the Kansas bill ever to make, that the compromise measures established the principle of non-intervention by Congress with Slavery anywhere. If their legislation was non-intervention, I should like to know what intervention consists in. These measures, in many respects, were more obnoxious to constitutional objections, and to the rights and interests of Slavery, than was the Missouri prohibition itself. Indeed almost immediately prior to the compromise measures of 1850 the movement had actually been made by Mr. CALHOUN in the lead and Mr. BUCHANAN following, to extend the Missouri compromise line to the Pacific Ocean. Mr. CALHOUN had, in effect, proposed it in the Senate, and Mr. POLK, then President of the United States, sanctioned the Oregon bill without Mr. CALHOUN'S amendment, because he conceived that the Missouri Compromise line extended already to the Pacific. The Missouri line, or that of 36° 30', it was supposed had become fixed across the Continent. Whether fixed or not in law, practically, it was a fact fixed by climate, that African Slavery would hardly ever go North of that line; it was forbidden by the region of frost. It would be something gained, then, to have the line fixed beyond which abolition or prohibition of Slavery could not come South. Whilst Slavery could not, by reason of climate, go North, free-soil might, if not prevented, come South of 36° 30'. This was undoubtedly the conviction and course of the South from about 1845 to 1850. Suddenly the compromise measures of 1850 were adopted which admitted California, without organization by Congress, under a military proclamation, from the camp of a Brigadier General, into the Union; which cut off from the Slave State of Texas 44,000 square miles, and converted it into a part of a Territory, and prohibited Slavery in it in the very language of the Missouri Compromise, by name, and which abolished the Slave-trade in the District of Columbia. This to be recognized by slaveholding Senators and Representatives as non-intervention by Congress with Slavery in the States and Territories, was to yield the whole of protection, and to grant the whole of prohibition of Slavery by Congress. But yielded it was, by recognizing such non-intervention as that established "by the legislation of 1850, commonly called the Compromise measures," in this provision of the Kansas act.

It was true that this fatal concession was overlooked in the eagerness to nullify the Missouri Compromise. But the repeal of that measure by Congress has developed a curious manifestation of results. After this Nebraska-Kansas Act was passed, May 30, 1854, there was great excitement in the Northern and non-slaveholding States against Mr. PIERCE and the Northern members of his Cabinet, for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise line. When Mr. CUSHING, his Attorney-General, from Massachusetts, went home, it was demanded of him how such a measure was ever perpetrated, in part, under his auspices, as one of the advisers of the New-Hampshire President. His reply, in a speech at Newburyport, I believe, was very characteristic. He said, in substance, according to my recollection: "Here was white acre, North, with 200 sheep grazing on it, and there was black acre, South, with but 100 sheep grazing on it, and the line of 36° 30' ran between them, making a compromise wall of partition; whilst that wall of partition stood, which sheep got the most of the pasture? the 100 on one half, or the 200 on the other half of the Territory?" Why, this sum was worked by simple proportions, and any urchin of a common school could reply, that so long as the wall divided them, the 100 sheep on black acre got just double the amount of grazing enjoyed by the same number on white acre. "But," said he, "I, of the white-acre flock, aided in breaking down the wall, and succeeded in throwing the sheep altogether on the two acres, and now tell me the proportion of pasturage to the 100 and to the 200 sheep?" Why, it was thought that it was an easy answer to say that, whereas the 100 got half before the wall was thrown down, they got but a third afterwards. This was thought to be good arithmetic, according to Dilworth. But an eminent member of Congress, who had studied migration more profoundly, the Hon. ELI THAYER, went to Boston and proved that Mr. CUSHING did not understand the arithmetic of Free-soil at all. Mr. CUSHING thought that his rule proved enough by showing that the white acre sheep had gained the difference between a third and a half in the sum total of pasturage. But Mr. THAYER proved that the 200 got all of the two acres. He dropped the sheep diagram of demonstration and took the actual relation of distinctive population between the slaveholding and non-slaveholding States. He saw what had been the effect of a line of latitude. That as far North as 36° 30' it was not needed to prevent Slavery from going North. Jack Frost would do that effectively; and cotton and sugar would draw slaves further South than hemp could hold them in the middle latitude. And he saw, further, that the line of partition prevented a free and uninterrupted race of competition in settlements south of 36 deg. 30 min., between Slavery and Free-soil. He concurred with Mr. CUSHING, then, in breaking down the partition, in order that that race might be started between a population North, which was comparatively redundant, and a population South, which was comparatively sparse. And not only was the one redundant and the other sparse, but the one was congregated in towns, and factories and cities, and skilled in mechanic arts, and the other was purely agricultural, separated on large plantations, and without the concert of association, and without mechanic arts or much money-capital; and, above all, all the male laborers and operatives of the one would count at the election polls, whilst the votes of the others would diminish in their numbers exactly in the relative proportion of the number of slaves to the number of masters. Every five or fifty from New-York or New-England would count five or fifty; but one master and four slaves, or one master and forty-nine slaves, would count but one. The proportion of votes then might be, when Slavery and Free-soil met at the polls in a Territory, as five, or, possibly, fifty, to one in favor of the latter. If it was but two to one, that disparity would be enough to drive all the blacks from the settlements and give the territories to the whites. With sagacious boldness, then, he said openly to Black Republicans: "I take Southern and slaveholding advocates of the Nebraska Kansas bill at their words. I agree gladly—

"First—That the line of partition shall be broken down.

"Second—That a tabula rasa shall be made of all laws prior to 1820 either protecting or establishing, prohibiting or abolishing Slavery; and

"Third—Non-intervention shall be the order of the law, and no power shall be exercised by Congress to protect the Federal right of holding slaves in a Territory."

With this fair field for the race of settling the Western Territories, and all the odds in his favor, he began the training which would win or lose all the stakes. Mighty stakes they were—the stakes of the States of empire on a continent of waste and unappropriated lands—stakes which, if won there, would lose to us all that we have at home. Accordingly, Emigrant Aid Societies were formed, and the emigrants were armed with Sharpe's rifles, to meet in hostile array those who were denounced as Border Ruffians. It was likely to be a battle rather than a race; a contest to be decided by the cartridge-box rather than by the ballot-box. But the wrongs and outrages committed on both sides are not in this discussion. My object now is only to show how the weaker was given over to the tender rivalry and competition of the stronger section. Protection to Slavery was doomed by the Badger amendment. Up to the passage of that proviso the laws of the Louisiana Territory, establishing and protecting Slavery south of 36° 30', at least, had never been doubted or questioned.

GOV. WISE'S OPINIONS ON THE SUBJECT OF POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY.

But the main matter at last, and that in aiming at which it perpetrated all these crudities and contradictions, was its proposition:

"To leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States."

Now what does this mean?

First—One class of persons claim under this clause what is called "squatter sovereignty;" an absolute and irresponsible power to those who happen for the time to be settlers of the public lands of a Territory to admit or exclude what they please, and to adopt their own system of laws at will, both in respect to persons and to property.

Second—A second class claim that this authorizes the people of a Territory, without being sovereign, to adopt for themselves their own local and municipal laws independent of the control of Congress. And,

Third—A third class hold that all the laws of a Territory are legitimately either enacted by Congress, or derived in their authority from the acts of Congress, and that Congress may at any time intervene to modify or repeal, or enact laws for a Territory, and is bound to protect all persons and property in Territories against unconstitutional and oppressive or unequal legislation in violation of the federal rights of the States and their citizens.

Gov. WISE insists that neither of the first two positions can be the true meaning of the clause, because the people of the Territory did not form and did not regulate their Territorial Government at all. Congress formed it for them, prescribed every particular provision and guarded most carefully every particle of power which it granted. The third proposition Gov. W. therefore regards as the true one, and insists that it is only in forming a Constitution for admission as a State that the people of a Territory are left free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way.

It is here, in the act of forming a constitution for a new State and of admitting her into this Union, that the doctrine of popular sovereignty in a Territory, and of non-intervention by Congress or any other power, both apply.

First, It is here that the people of a Territory, in the act of forming the constitution of their new State, must be left "perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States."

Second, It is here, in forming their constitution for the new State, and in regulating the State or domestic institutions under its supreme law, that Congress or any other power cannot rightfully intervene.

Popular and State sovereignty both forbid Congress to intervene in forming or regulating State constitutions or institutions.

Congress may exercise its constitutional power to admit the new State into this Union, or it may reject the application for admission. But it cannot dictate the mode of forming the constitution of the new State, nor what shall be the provisions of the constitution of the new State.

Governor WISE gives a full explanation of his opposition to the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, which rested on the fact that violence and fraud had been resorted to in the election of the members of the Constitutional Convention and that the Constitution did not, therefore, express or embody the views of the people. He then adds:

THE DUTY OF CONGRESSIONAL INTERVENTION FOR PROTECTION.

Such are the teachings to me of our past history, and I trust that I have now demonstrated that the inhabitants or people of a Territory are sovereign to form for themselves a Constitution and State Government, as I have shown in the first place, that in their territorial condition they are within the entire control and jurisdiction, or under the entire rule and regulation of Congress, subject to the Constitution of the United States, and that the citizens of each and all of the States are alike equally entitled to protection in all the privileges and immunities of persons and of property, common to equal confederates.

And this right and this duty of Protection is not to be evaded or avoided either by the false ad captandum clamor that a Code is required to be enacted by Congress for the protection of slave property. This is but to cast odium upon Slavery, by creating the impression that a discrimination is necessary to distinguish it above what is due to other personal and proprietary rights. On the contrary, no such Code is required to create either the right or the duty of protection, and no law is necessary to distinguish slave property from any other property. All persons and all property, equally and alike, require only not to be assailed and destroyed in, or excluded from the common Territories. Every species of rights require laws, it is true, suited to their character and to their case. Personal property, for example, must have a law that it shall not be "taken and carried away;" and land, which cannot be "taken and carried away," must have a law that it shall not be trespassed upon in some other way; and so with slaves and everything else, they must have provisions according to their kind. But the Constitution of the United States, and the laws of Congress heretofore organizing Territories are sufficient, and if amendments of the laws are required, it is the duty of Congress to see that they are provided, of the Executive of the United States to see that they are executed, and of the Judiciary to decide upon the rights under the laws. The Slave States should never pretend to any peculiar privileges, and do not, so far as I know. They ask only that their rights shall not be assailed and invaded, and, if they be assailed, that they may be protected as other personal and proprietary rights are protected; that they may have equal, confederate, federal privileges and immunities, and they ask for no special or peculiar Code. The sole question is: What protection does the Constitution guarantee in the Territories? We contend that it guarantees all protection required to all persons and all rights recognized within its jurisdiction. What that jurisdiction is in the Territories, we have endeavored to demonstrate.

Lastly, the United States, through Congress, owe protection not only to the people in the Territories, but to the people in the States. Intervention for protection penetrates everywhere and must not be denied anywhere.

Thus it is shown that Intervention for Protection, by the United States, through Congress, is all pervading. It penetrates into States, Territories, Districts, and other places throughout the United States, and is one of the most totally essential attributes of our blessed Federal Union. No doctrine could be more repugnant to its benign spirit, nor more destructive of Federal immunities and privileges, and none more fatal to State Rights and the safety of individual persons and their property, than this new light of "Non-Intervention" to protect all and every thing in the jurisdiction of the United States. It is a question which cannot be retired from discussion in Congress, where it rises up every day in every form, and where it must be met with intelligence, integrity and courage. It cannot be renounced or smothered, or the Government must relinquish its dominion over every subject of its jurisdiction.

And this doctrine of "Non Intervention for Protection" is only equalled in danger and destructiveness by that correlative error of some minds in these days: "That Congress may not intervene to protect; for if it has the power to protect, it has the power to destroy." This is a non sequitur, and a weak fallacy and gross delusion. The power and duty to protect is the power and duty not only not to destroy, but something far greater—it is the duty to intervene against invasion and violence. The whole American system of Government throughout is one to protect against destruction. Because Congress may and shall provide the writ of habeas corpus, trial by jury, freedom of speech or of the press, &c., &c., shall it, therefore, be said to possess the power to withhold, deny or destroy either or all of these rights?

But, say some, cui bono?—If a majority of Congress are opposed to the protection of the right, what use is there in claiming the mere abstraction of the right? I reply that there is great use and practical effect in it too.

The proposition of non-intervention is: "By the Compromise of 1850, the Kansas-Nebraska act, and other declarations of its will, Congress renounced the exercise of any direct jurisdiction over the Territories, and delegated its power to the local Legislatures." But it concedes that Congress could bestow no authority on the local Legislatures of which it was not itself possessed"—in other words, Congress cannot delegate more power than it possesses itself; and it has none to prohibit Slavery. Very well, and so good as to the power. But there is a positive duty to be discharged as well as a power not to be exercised. Suppose the Territorial Legislature attempts to prohibit Slavery, and thus to do what Congress itself cannot do in the Territories. Has Congress renounced its jurisdiction in the case? Could it or can it do so? If not, what is its duty? Does non-intervention renounce this duty of protection, in such a case, or not? It replies that this claim upon Congress to discharge this duty will be vain. Why? There is a dead majority against us in Congress, and they will not heed the appeal to the Legislative Department for protection. Well, but the case supposes a like dead majority and an aggressive majority against us in the Territorial Legislature too. What then? There is no refuge of safety from a majority against us in Territorial Legislatures. Non-intervention quickly answers this dilemma, by saying: "Let the Courts determine between us and our adversaries." This is what is called "remitting" the question to the Judiciary, which may decide as well as the Congress or the Executive. True, the Judiciary may and must decide, anyhow, in either case, for that was no discovery of Mr. CALHOUN, but a Constitutional function, which has ever belonged to the Courts, and of which Congress and the Executive and the Territorial authorities cannot deprive them; and, without any remission by Congress, the Judicial Department has the power of deciding upon the validity of laws. And it can as well and more directly pass upon the validity of laws enacted by Congress itself as upon the validity of those enacted by the Territorial Legislatures. If Congress passes an unconstitutional law we can go to the Courts, just as easy as if the law was passed by its delegate, the Territorial Legislature. And if Congress does not renounce its direct jurisdiction and delegate it to the Territorial Legislature, then the latter will have no power to annoy the slave property locally by its abuse of delegated power; and the Territorial Legislature is more apt to pass a prohibition than Congress is, for very obvious reasons. The eye of the whole nation is immediately upon Congress, and no positive code is required to establish its power and duty to protect persons and property. The Constitution itself dictates and enjoins both. And it is first of all necessary, that neither the power nor the duty shall be practically denied, embarrassed or obstructed, by the enactment of unconstitutional laws of prohibition. Positive legislation is more apt to be passed against Slavery by local than by national laws. In any practical view, then, we are attempting to shear a lion instead of a wolf. Non-intervention is simply absurd and impossible, and it is worse than impracticable. It openly avows the monstrous doctrine that Congress, the Legislative Department, the principal, may renounce its jurisdiction, and delegate its powers and duties to an agent, a local Territorial Legislature, and that if that does not exercise the power or violates the duty of protection, Congress is released from its responsibility, and we can look to the Judiciary alone. But if one Department of Government may renounce its jurisdiction and responsibility so may another Department—if Congress may, so may the Judiciary and the Executive. May the principal powers thus renounce and delegate to agents? The answer shows this subterfuge of non-intervention futile and absurd, and it is a cowardly concession not to claim both the duty and power of protection. Whether we claim them or not, or whether they be discharged and exercised or not, they both exist in our favor in all the Departments of the Federal Government. The moral power, rightly wielded, is bound to be dominant in the end over mere numbers. But grant that it is to be overcome by brute force, and crushed by the weight of numbers, still, if the minority be not subjugated, they may appeal to rightful resistance. In case they are compelled to do so, it will be best for them never to have yielded the claim of right. They must put in continued claim for justice and equality; and then, when they have been denied both, and been oppressed and insulted beyond sufferance, they may appeal with effect to the moral sense of mankind to justify revolution. If they concede that they are not entitled to protection, and that it is not the duty of Congress to guard and protect their rights, then, when the last extremity comes, they may not complain that they were not protected and defended against wrong, injustice and oppression, for the reason that they have conceded that there was no power or no duty to protect them.

GENERAL SUMMARY—CONCLUDING APPEAL.

The summary of the whole free and glorious, but complex system, then, is:

First—Thirteen original, separate, sovereign and independent States, of which the people are the source, and which States are the fountain and source of all national power in the United States. They formed—

Second—A Constitution of Union, creating "The United States of America;" embracing—

First—A District of Columbia, for a seat of government, and other places for forts, magazines, arsenals, &c., governed by Congress as a local, as well as national legislature, and created by the Constitution of the United States.

Second—Territories—

First—Acquired under the confederation, and before the Constitution was formed, by cessions from original States.

Second—Acquired since the Constitution was formed—

First—By cessions of original States.

Second—Under purchase or conquest by the United States.

And all territories, however acquired, are either—

First—Territories of unsurveyed and unappropriated lands, unorganized, and in the occupancy of Indians, or other occupants.

Second—Territories organized and appropriated to occupancy by Indians. And Third—Territories settled and surveyed in part, and organized for the occupancy of citizens of the United States.

All under the jurisdiction and legislative protection of Congress, subject to the Constitution of the United States. And Third—New States.

First—Those admitted directly into the Union, with the consent and cession of the original States, and with the consent of Congress, without having been territories belonging to the United States.

Second—Those admitted into the Union after having been ceded to the United States, as territories, and remaining in that condition, organized or unorganized, before admission.

These having the power of self-government, free, sovereign, republican, separate and independent; but not having complete power over their own eminent domain.

All States, original or new, and districts and other places and territories, under the guarantee of protection by the United States.

The system is perfect in its kind. It requires study and care, and great providence in its administration, and is subject to great revulsions and revolutions, and is seemingly, to one who looks at its mazes without understanding its order and checks and balances, a war of contending and opposing contradictions and antagonisms. It would seem impossible to reconcile them, and as if Government was attempting to bestride and rein fiery courses running in opposite directions. Well, it is what it seems; has dangers which all Government is obliged to guard and provide against. The powers of good and evil in it are terrible and conflicting. The steeds of the Sun are so, too, and to control them is what a Sol has to do, and a Phæton cannot do. Government drives powers of high and fearful mettle. In weak or wicked hands they are wild and unmanageable, or are driven to madness and dash downwards, or upwards, or any and every way to destruction. But harnessed, braced, bitted, checked, curbed, restrained, or compelled, they may be made to pull together, with inconceivable power of good, and can, in beautiful and harmonious style of action and motion, accomplish all the ends of human happiness. They must not be allowed to dash off in opposite directions, but are required to be driven all together, and he is not fit to drive the powers of Government at all who cannot hold and wield all the reins in hand at once. The conflict of laws and of interests, and of sections, and of passions and prejudices, must be reconciled and tamed under the discipline of the rules which govern the Constitutions, State and Federal of the United States.

To escape danger or disaster to themselves, your Congress, and Executive, and Judiciary, and State Legislatures shall not, with my consent, be allowed to drop the reins of Government, and leap from the seats of power and responsibility, and renounce the duty of protection and preservation to all within their care by the ignoring, and stultifying, and disqualifying plea of negation—"Non-intervention." There are too many elements of discord in this country which require to be restrained by the most active and positive, but prudent, intervention. These resolutions of Vermont, the tendency of which is either to drive one section of the States out of the Union, or to degrade and subjugate them in it, are an example. If anything can be worse than disunion to the United States, it would be the more dire alternative of degrading and subjugating any one State by forcing her submission to unequal laws and dishonorable conditions in the confederacy. The State or section of States thus subdued and humbled would be unworthy of the union with other free republics, and such a union would be no longer what union now is. It should, then, be the watchful concern of all to maintain and support the honor, dignity and equality of each, and equality alone can reciprocally maintain the strength of all. If first one and then another may be subdued, finally all but one will become subject to that one, central and consolidated. This should always combine the majority of States to support the weaker portion of the Union against the very appearance of oppression. But, alas! such manifestations as these resolutions of Vermont, daily admonish us that they are not the only instance of the madness of a majority, and, more to be lamented still, the madness of the majority drives the minority to opposing madness. The folly and wickedness of one extreme drives the other to folly and wickedness.

All human rights, natural as well as any other, are social and conventional; and all rights spring from the nature of things and their relations to each other. What is a natural right at one moment and in one relation, may not exist at all at another moment and in another relation. Time, habitude and relations modify and mollify all rights and wrongs in morals as well as manners. Truth and justice, and all cardinal principles, I know and plead, are externally the same; but the misapplication of principles may pervert truth into falsehood, justice into injustice, and right into wrong. Our holding and governing our slaves in the United States now don't depend upon the right or wrong of their original acquisition, but upon existing relations—upon the lapse of time, upon the laws of centuries, upon the habitudes of society, upon everything which can perfect a title to anything. The masters are born for generations to know their powers, duties and responsibilities, and the slaves have been humanized, chastened and christianized, and they have been, under the providence of God, blessed in their condition compared with what exists among Africans anywhere else, and they have here gladly and happily increased and multiplied. I am north of 36° 30′ North latitude, and am a slaveholder myself, by inheritance and by purchase; and I would gladly own a great many more than I do if I were able. I cherish a fond regard for the race, and those of them who are my slaves love me. Nobody shall ever disturb our patriarchal and happy home relations if I can help it. I will fight first—I will fight for them; and they, I know, will fight for me. They are easily made happy and easily elevated to a condition worthy of the tenderest kindness and confidence; but they need the care of good guardianship, and they shall have mine while I live and that of my children when I die.

To defend our slave property at home, on the borders of the Free States, requires all the aid we can obtain by sympathy from within and without; and we need especially that our friends in the South shall do nothing to prejudice the cause of African bondage, and of its defences as it exists in the United States in the minds of any.

For the South's sake, and for the sake of the border States of Slavery, then, let us enforce the laws and entrench ourselves behind their ramparts. If we would have justice, let us do it to our own hurt even—if we will not submit to violations of the Constitution of the United States, let us by all means keep the faith of the covenant. And, then, if the worst comes to the worst, we must throw away all vain boasting and gasconade, and be prepared and purified as men ought to be for the trials of a severe, stern struggle; to maintain the "very right," with steady purposes, with courage, with truth, with constancy, with clear consciences, with intelligence, with integrity, and with trust in God.

This is not a contest to be decided by the laws of man, but by the laws of nature and by the providence of God; not by that "higher law" of high-handed aggression and arrogant dominancy which sets at nought constitutions and statutes of human Government, but by reverence for laws, human and divine, and by enlightened reason and conscience, which teach us to follow Nature and to pursue the path of experience and profit which she points out. The "fool in his heart who says there is no God," sees the Frost King shooting his borealis lights from the North Pole, and he then looks to the Sun of the Summer solstice which never crosses Cancer's line North, and he says there is a war in the elements of Nature, and Nature herself, he thinks, sets them contending—Frost with Sun, Cold with Heat, North with South and South with North. But how differently does Nature's music of the spheres answer back in all ultimate harmony and peace. The law of Frost and the law of the Sun are reconciled and kiss each other in the blending of lights and of temperature, in the equipoise of expansion and contraction, in the variety of climate and of production in the supply and sustentation of animal and vegetable life and health in every form of its existence. Nature makes no wars, but arrays and mingles elements, and subdues the one by the other only when her course is opposed or obstructed. Her hyperborean cold piles up icebergs, and these again her Heat melts apart and sets them floating towards an Equator to refrigerate the seas of the South, to make invigorating winds and airs and fructifying dews and rains; and Frost and Sun say how near Boreas the Africans, and how near the Tropics the white men may labor in the fields of the respective Northern and Southern climes; and all nature says that the apple and the orange shall both grow and be exchanged for each other; that wheat, and corn, and tobacco, and cotton, and rice, and sugar, in a plantation interest of the sunny fields of the South shall have, and must have, the African operatives fitted for the climate; and that a superior race must master and govern and guide and provide for them; and that wheat, and corn, and grass, and potatoes, and cattle, in a farming interest adjacent to commerce and manufactures and mechanics' art, must, in the regions of cold, have the superior race to be operatives and artisans there, to be masters of themselves and the equals of masters anywhere, and to be benefited by the labors of the slaves, in the exchange of products, as the masters of slaves are in the productions themselves. This is all as harmonious as heat and cold, if God alone be acknowledged the Supreme Providence, and if His work and law be not obstructed and opposed by the folly of man. The heat and the cold, the frost and the sun seem to contend, but it is only at last to make harmony and variety, and a perfect balance by counter influence and exchange of forces. And so this seeming war of North and South would be ultimately happy and harmonious but for the ignorance and narrowness and short-sightedness of human vision. The war of North and South sections in the United States is no less strange than, in the language of a master divine, "the strange anomaly of a religion of love producing the keenest haters, and a gospel of peace engendering strifes and animosities more bitter than the disputes and rivalries of the profane." It is all owing to the arrogance and vanity of men attempting to assume the Deity's prerogatives, to change the very laws of our nature as well as of grace, and in presuming to play Providence itself for human affairs. This nation wants reverence more than anything else, to preserve its peace and prosperity. Let us, then, before the sword of civil war is ever drawn in the United States, all kneel down in pious and patriotic devotion before that God who led our fathers through the gloom of Revolution to sovereign independence, when we were a poor, despised, needy, and weak people, and pray fervently that now we are a strong and prosperous nation, quintupled in power, and wealth, and population, and greatness, we may not be allowed to throw all away by forgetting the Divine care which is the only reliance, after all, of a free Republic, for protection. Despotisms are guarded by bayonets, and the people are degraded in order that brute force may easily subdue them to a tyrant's will. But we cannot and dare not rely upon force; we will not be degraded, and will not submit to tyrants. The laws immediately guard us; but what guards the laws? Nothing but a religious sense and reverence, an enlightened Christian conscience and reason, which alone can preserve the wisdom and virtue of the people.

To add my humble mite of enlightenment is the sole end of this long essay, which I have snatched at intervals of constant and heavy official labors. It has, doubtless, many defects and errors, and I therefore reserve the privilege of modification and correction, as may be necessary, hereafter. But I reply not at all to your personal allusions, because I regard myself as nothing, if I can but aid the truth and serve my whole country, whilst I am trying to secure the home in which my destiny is fast fixed, now and ever through life, on the love of which the love of a whole country is surest founded.

With a dedication of this labor of love to you, whose kind interest in me has drawn it forth for all, I am your friend, HENRY A. WISE.

WHAT? WHY A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR,

Because it is the ornament God Himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW-YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD—Dear Sir: Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear Sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.

DRYCH A'R GWYLIEDYDD.
WELSH NEWSPAPER OFFICE,
No. 13 NASSAU-ST., April 12, 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of [illegible].
CHARLES CARTER.
New-York, [illegible], 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.
J. G. KILBY.

PROF. WOOD: About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out, and turned back to its former color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857. J. D. HOES.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz.: Large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for $1 per bottle; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2 per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

BRITISH POETS.

PUBLISHED BY
LITTLE, BROWN & CO.,
No. 112 Washington st.,
Boston
A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF THE BRITISH POETS,
FROM CHAUCER TO WORDSWORTH,
HANDSOMELY PRINTED IN NEAT 16MO. VOLUMES.
Price 75 cents per Volume.
EACH WORK SOLD SEPARATELY.

This collection, of which more than one hundred volumes are already issued, is intended to embrace the whole works of the most distinguished authors, from Chaucer to Wordsworth, with selections from the Minor Poets, accompanied with Biographical, Historical, and Critical Notices and Portraits—the whole forming a far more complete, elegant, and cheap edition of the British Poets than has ever appeared before.

The numerous testimonials to the excellence of this series, which the publishers have received, both from the Press and the public, in all parts of the country, would seem to indicate that a popular want has been met by this edition, which is universally acknowledged to be the best ever issued, both in point of editorship and mechanical execution.

The following are now ready:

Kens de	1 vol.	Milton	3 vols.
Ballads	8 vols.	Montgomery	5 vols.
Beattie	1 vol.	Moore	6 vols.
Butler	2 vols.	Parnell and Tickell	1 vol.

Herbert	1 vol.	White	1 vol.
Herrick	2 vols	Wordsworth	7 vols.
Hood	4 vols.	Wyatt	1 vol.
Keats	1 vol.	Young	2 vols.
Marvell	1 vol.

From the New York Times.
This series of the British Poets is by far the best collection we have anywhere met with.

From the Boston Daily Advertiser.
We cannot speak too highly in praise of this edition—the only one that deserves the name of "complete"—of the British Poets.

From the Southern Literary Gazette.
A more beautiful and complete edition of each poet than that furnished in this series cannot be found, and certainly it does not seem possible that the force of cheapness can any further go.

From the Albany Evening Journal.
We cannot forbear to say that this whole collection is at once a monument of the best taste and the highest critical skill, and a rare specimen of beautiful mechanical execution. Take it all in all, we do not hesitate to say that it is decidedly superior to any other edition of the British Poets that we have met with.

From the Boston Recorder.
Every author introduced in this series is edited with the utmost care, and the whole is intended to form the most complete set of English Poets ever published.

From the Louisville Journal.
This edition should grace every library, public and private, and be that may own it may not have cause to envy any one the possession of any other edition.

From the New-York Courier and Enquirer.
A fairer printed, a more tasteful or more valuable set of books cannot be placed in any library.

From the Home Journal.
The best, the most permanently valuable, the most convenient, and the cheapest edition of the standard poetical literature of Great Britain ever published.

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.
We regard it as the most beautiful and convenient library edition of the British Poets yet published.

From Bibliotheca Sacra.
We do not know any other edition of the English Poets which combines so much excellence.

From Brownson's Review.
We warmly commend it, and wish it a success proportioned to its merits.

From the Detroit Free Press.
This series is the most elegant, the most perfect, that has been issued in this country.

From the Richmond Examiner.
Undoubtedly the cheapest and most attractive collection of the British Poets ever published.

SPRING TRADE NOTICE.
IMPORTANT
TO
EVERY DRY-GOODS MERCHANT
IN THE UNION.
DE FOREST, ARMSTRONG & CO.
Are now receiving their Spring Importations, and are exhibiting at their SALESROOMS,
NOS. 80 AND 82 CHAMBERS-ST., N. Y., the most extensive, elegant, varied and complete stock of FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC GOODS
ever before offered for sale by them, and presenting attractions and advantages to the trade generally, and from all parts, such as are to be met with in very few places. Their extensive stores on Chambers-st., which they occupy entire, enable them to appropriate to each class of goods a separate department, and to have, in fact, so many distinct stocks in their Warerooms, each of which will be complete. Without specifying the articles embraced, they would name the departments, viz.:
DRESS GOODS,
SILKS,
WHITE GOODS AND LINENS,
CLOTHS AND CASSIMERES,
FLANNELS,
SHAWLS AND MANTILLAS,
HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
YANKEE NOTIONS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
PARASOLS,
DOMESTICS AND PRINTS.
To their Domestic and Print Department they call particular attention, embracing all the leading makes and styles, which will be sold at the very lowest rates. They have the entire production of the
WARREN PRINTS,
A print which has done more good to the retailer through the country, last season, than perhaps any other low-price print. Their Merrimack, Cocheco, Sprague, Garner, Dunnell, and PACIFIC AMARANTH PRINTS, are of the very best selections.
CLINTON, GLASGOW, LANCASTER, and SCOTCH GINGHAMS, in every variety.
Their
DOMESTICS
embrace the following brands:
Wamsuttas,
Bate's Mills,
Lonsdale,
Naumkeag,
White Rock,
Metamora,
Hill Manufacturing Company,
New-York Mills,
Arkwright,
Paterson,
Hebron,
Lawrence,
Merrimack,
Pocasset,
Pepperill,
Cabott,
Atlantic.
All the well known makes of TICKS, STRIPES, and DENIMS, such as York, Hamilton, Pemberton, &c.
Soliciting trade on liberal terms, they invite notice to their House—street and number as above.

AUCTION SALES.

MALONE ET AL. VS. THE NORTH-WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY ET AL.—IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA, IN AND FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT. January Term, 1859, No. 10 In Equity.

Under and by virtue of a decree of the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania, made in the above case, on the 23d day of April, 1859, will be exposed at public sale, by public vendue or outcry, upon Tuesday, the fifth day of July, A. D. 1859, at 12 o'clock, noon at the Philadelphia Exchange, in the city of Philadelphia, by Moses Thomas & Sons, Auctioneers, the following described railroad and property, upon the terms and conditions hereinafter stated, to wit:

The NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD, from its terminus in Newcastle, in the County of Lawrence, Pennsylvania, to its southeastern terminus, at or near Blairsville, Indiana County, Pennsylvania, and all the corporate rights, franchises, and privileges thereto belonging, together with the lands, depôts, depôt grounds, and real estate belonging to said railroad and said NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY.

ANDREW M. EASTWICK,
EDWARD C. KNIGHT,
PETER A. KEYSER, } Trustees.

N. B.—It appears, from the report of the Master, that the route of said railroad extends a distance of 86 miles, or thereabouts, that 35 consecutive miles of said road have been graded, and the bridge masonry thereon completed, and the superstructure of the bridges in part but not wholly made. That that portion of said road is, for the most part ballasted, but the tunnels upon that part of said road have not been arched, and that two miles, or thereabouts, of the track have been laid. Of the remaining portion of the road, three miles only have been graded; that since the work aforementioned has been done, many of the tunnels constructed have fallen in; that the cuts in several places have been filled by slides of earth and gravel, and the ballast in several places destroyed.

TERMS OF SALE.

The said Lands, Railroads, Franchises and Premises above mentioned, will be exposed to sale entire and in one lot, and the following terms and conditions will be observed in the making of the said sale, in accordance with the decree of the Court. In case any one of the holders of the Bonds or Coupons due and payable upon the said Bonds of the said "THE NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY," and secured by the Mortgage executed by the said Andrew M. Eastwick, Edward C. Knight, and Peter A. Keyser, Trustees, shall become purchasers by themselves or with others of the said premises at the said sale, then the said holders of the said Bonds or Coupons, shall be and they are hereby authorized to make payment of the price or purchase money bid by them at the said sale, either in whole or in part, excepting the sum of $1,000 hereinafter mentioned, by transferring and delivering to the said Andrew M. Eastwick, Edward C. Knight, and Peter A. Keyser, Trustees aforesaid, the Bonds or Coupons the said purchaser may then hold, or by receipting upon the same for the amount that may be so bid by him or them in whole or in part of the said purchase money, the said Bonds and Coupons to be estimated at such rate per cent. of the par value thereof, as the holders of the said Bonds or Coupons so purchasing, may be respectively entitled to receive out of the whole price or sum for which the premises shall be sold as aforesaid; after payment of expenses and commissions for which share or dividend the said delivery and transfer of a receipt upon the said Bonds and Coupons, shall be deemed and taken to be a discharge and acquittance to said Trustees; and the balance of the said purchase money not paid in Bonds or Coupons as aforesaid shall be paid by the said party so purchasing, in cash, within twenty days after the day of sale to the said Trustees. And if the said premises shall be purchased at the said sale by parties other than the holders or owners of the said Bonds or Coupons, as before mentioned, then the whole of the said purchase money shall be paid in cash at the time of the said sale or within twenty days thereafter, to the said Andrew M. Eastwick, Edward C. Knight, and Peter A. Keyser, Trustees aforesaid, and upon such sale being made and effected as before mentioned, and upon the terms thereof being fully complied with, the said Andrew M. Eastwick, Edward C. Knight and Peter A. Keyser, Trustees aforesaid, at all execute to the highest bidder, being the purchaser thereof, or in case of default within twenty days thereafter to the next highest bidder for the same, a proper deed or deeds for the granting and conveying unto him or them of the aforesaid lands, railroads, franchises, improvements, and premises to be delivered to him or them upon the acknowledgement thereof in this said Court to have, hold, receive, and enjoy the same according to law and the acts of Assembly of this Commonwealth relating to the same for such estate and estates as the said "Northwestern Railroad Company" has therein, and that the said bidders at said sale shall pay down at the time of signing the conditions of sale, the sum of ($1,000) one thousand dollars. For further particulars, apply to T. HENNESSY, Solicitor for Complainants,
No 430 Spruce-st., Philadelphia.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The royal mail steamship Niagara, from Liverpool on the 23d ult., is now about due at Halifax. Her advices are three days later than those by the North Briton at Quebec.

The steamship Glasgow, from Glasgow on the 20th ult., arrived here yesterday. Her advices are no later than those by the North Briton; but they furnish the text of the royal speech at the prorogation of Parliament, and a more extended synopsis of the pacific article which appeared in the Moniteur on the 19th ult. They will be found in another column.

News from California to the 8th of April,—three days later than the steamer advices,—reaches us by the Overland Mail. The letter of our Special Correspondent gives a general summary of the latest intelligence. A large fleet of clippers had arrived at San Francisco since the sailing of the mail steamer; among them the Andrew Jackson, Midnight, Nonpareil, Comet and Moonlight. Political movements had become interesting; the question of the election of a United States Senator entering into the pending contest. A strong Anti-Douglas effort was going on among the Democracy of the State. The Indian difficulties in Southern California were about to be amicably adjusted.

News from the Sandwich Islands to the 17th of March, two weeks' later than previous advices, is also received by the Overland Mail. There had been some excitement at Honolulu in consequence of the discovery of new guano islands, the location of which was kept secret among the knowing ones, who were preparing to send vessels to load with cargoes. The guano deposits previously discovered at French-frigate Reef were likely to prove the occasion of trouble between the French and Americans. The crater of Kilauea was still in a state of eruption.

We learn by a dispatch from Norfolk that two vessels are ashore near Cape Henry—the British brigs Vestal and Giaour, from Pernambuco for Baltimore.

The annual session of the American Medical Convention commenced at Louisville yesterday—twenty-five States and Territories being represented. Harvey Lindsley, of Washington, was elected President, and S. M. Bemis, of Louisville and A. G. Semmes, of Washington, were chosen Secretaries. The business yesterday was principally preliminary.

The American barque Messenger Bird, of Kingston, Mass, John H. Dalee master, which sailed from Rio de Janeiro 19th January last, with a cargo of 4,824 bags of coffee, for Hampton Roads, for orders, consigned to Mr. John Gallop, of this city, arrived at Valparaiso March 27, ostensibly bound to California. The cargo, worth $90,000, is insured in England.

The people of Staten Island indulged in an extraordinary jubilation last evening, apropos of the measures partially adopted by the last Legislature for the removal of Quarantine to some more remote and more fitting location. There was an immense procession, several bands, universal illuminations, and unlimited rejoicing.

The 3.50 P. M. Express-train from Albany, on the Hudson River Railroad, ran over a two-horse wagon, at Cruger's Station, yesterday, and seriously injured two men, one of whom was in a dying condition when last heard from.

The Governors of the Almshouse had an exciting session yesterday afternoon. Radical changes were made in the administration of the institutions. Moses B. Crasto was elected Warden of Randall's Island; Charles P. Degreck, Warden of the Almshouse; Stephen M. Drew, Superintendent of the Workhouse, Edward A. Ebbetts Clerk of Bellevue, and Charles Henry Clerk to the Storekeeper on Randall's Island. On motion of Governor Brueninghausen, Jonathan Stearns was removed from his position as Warden of the Almshouse, notwithstanding the statements of Governors Townsend and Smith that he was dangerously sick, and had been for many years in the service of the Department.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday at 3 P. M., transacted some routine business, and adjourned to Tuesday next.

At the regular meeting of the New-York Historical Society, last evening, Mr. H. B. Dawson read a paper entitled "The Sons of Liberty in New-York," in which were collated the leading measures of opposition to the oppression of the Crown, which were projected in this City before the Revolution, and accounts of the manner in which they were carried out.

In the case of Nesmith vs. The Atlantic Insurance Company, the suit in the Superior Court to recover the insurance on the brig Achorn, charged to have been burned by instigation of the owners, the plaintiff yesterday recovered a verdict for the whole amount claimed. On the former trial the Jury disagreed. This verdict implies the exoneration of Messrs. Achorn from the charges made against them.

Justice Pierrepont, of the Superior Court, yesterday rendered his decision in the suit brought to restrain the Messrs. Phalon from using the name "Cocaine," in favor of the plaintiff; granting the injunction prayed.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer, a singular trial took place yesterday. Thomas Miller, a boy of twelve years of age, so small as to be almost an infant in appearance, was charged, on an indictment found by the Grand Jury, with Manslaughter in the First degree. On the 7th of March last, he stabbed another boy, named McElroy, a fellow-laborer, in a shoe store in 27th-street, with an awl, inflicting a wound from which the latter died. The provocation was an attempt on the part of McElroy to deprive him of his tools and other implements of his trade. His counsel, in an ingenious argument, tried to make it appear that he only acted in self-defence. The Jury, however, thought otherwise, but in a merciful spirit, convicted him of Manslaughter in the Fourth degree. He was immediately sentenced by Judge Davies to the House of Refuge, where he will probably remain till he is twenty-one years of age.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, Julia Fennell, a notable shop-lifter, pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny, and was sentenced to the State Prison for four years. Ann Ryan, her confederate, was tried for the same offence, and, notwithstanding the earnest asseveration on Julia's part that Ann was innocent, she was convicted and sent for three years to the State Prison. Edward Henry, charged with receiving a quantity of type, and other articles pertaining to a printing office, knowing them to be stolen, was tried and acquitted.

Yesterday 1,800 bales Cotton were reported sold including Middling Upland, from store, at 12c. ₩ fb. Flour was less active, yet essentially unchanged in value. Wheat and Corn were in lively request at improved prices. Pork was more sought after, chiefly for future delivery, and New Mess closed higher. Cut Meats and Lard were depressed. Beef was in good demand at buoyant prices. The sales of Groceries included 100 mats green Java Coffee at 14c.; 75 bags Laguayra do. at 12c.@12½c.; 600 bags Maracaibo and 256 bags Jamaica do. on private terms; 300 bags Rio at 11c @12½c.; 400 bags do. skimmings at 11⅝c.; 100 bags Cape 9c.@10½c. ₩ fb.; 200 bbls. The Mexican Question.

Since the terrible wars of the Carlist and Christine factions in Spain, modern history has been charged with no records of civil strife so horrible as the chapters which two fierce and active parties are now daily adding to the annals of the unhappy Republic of Mexico. The dark renown of Zamalacarrequi and El Empecinado is emulated by the chieftains of the Centralistas and the Federalistas; and if the modern doctrine of the solidarity of the nations could ever justify the interference of a foreign Power in the affairs of a distracted State, the time has clearly come for its assertion in Mexico. It is a scandal upon our actual civilization that such scenes as the massacre of Tacubaya, with its attendant horrors, portrayed so graphically in the letters which we yesterday published from our Special Correspondents at Vera Cruz and the capital, should be possible in the heart of a great country, professing independence and the power of self-government. The principles on which the European Governments acted in the case of the Greek Revolution, and, still more lately, in the instance of the revolt of Mehemet Ali against the sovereignty of the Ottoman Porte may well be invoked, to justify a decided demonstration on the part of the United States in favor of one or another of the contending parties in Mexico.

In common with all the nations whose interests are involved to a greater or less extent in the condition of Mexico, and whose subjects are exposed to constant peril of insult and injury by the disorganization of Mexican society, we have a right to insist upon seeing a term put to the present state of things. And it is more peculiarly our duty, than that of any other Power, to assume the assertion of this right. Were the "Monroe Doctrine" purely a myth, without substance or value, the case would not be altered. Our position as the first Power of the New-World—as the only Power, indeed, of the New-World which occupies on this Continent a rank analogous with that of the so-called great Powers of Europe, of itself imposes this duty upon us at the present time. The fundamental thought of the Monroe Doctrine ought to be now invented, if it had never found shape before in our history. But as Mr. Livingston, one of our calmest, most accomplished and high-minded statesmen, firmly and admirably said, in 1826, "the declaration made by President Monroe in 1823 was a solemn engagement entered into by the United States before the whole world, of resistance to any European intervention in America;" and in taking upon ourselves such an engagement, we assumed the correlative obligation of an American intervention in cases which might make intervention necessary. Our attitude would be anomalous indeed if we should undertake to prevent all other powers from doing an act politically necessary, while at the same time we decline to do that act ourselves. It is proper that such aid should be given to one or another party in Mexico as may enable that party to suppress the excesses and put an end to the disorders which now disgrace and paralyze the State. That aid it is our function to give; and as to the party which should receive it there is no longer any room for question.

The American Government has recognized the authority of the Federalista President Juarez. That authority now reigns over the greater portion of Mexico. The Federalistas hold Vera Cruz and the sea-coasts. They are strong throughout the interior. The resistance of the opposite faction to their power is shut up in a few strong places, and in the Capital. In recovering possession of the City of Mexico, this faction of the Centralists, represented by General Miramon has perpetrated atrocious outrages upon foreigners of various nations, and especially upon American citizens, their property and the dignity of the American flag. In the eyes of the American Government, General Miramon is a perfectly irresponsible partizan, in open revolt against the legitimate rulers of Mexico. He can be brought to punishment, and reparation made for the mischief he has done, only through the agency of the Government of Juarez. In order, therefore, to reach him, and to secure justice for ourselves, it has become of the first importance that the Liberal or Federalist Government should be thoroughly installed in Mexico.

Were it consistent with our system of administration, it would be both proper and desirable that any assistance in the way either of money or of men, which President Juarez might see fit to ask of us, should be extended to him at once. But though this cannot unfortunately be, there are certain perils which can be averted from him by prompt action on the part of our own Executive, and thus much at least the country has a right to expect of Mr. Buchanan. Our advices assure us that the Government of President Juarez is threatened with the open hostility of the Envoys of France and England, and there are even rumors of an intention on the part of the latter power to bombard Vera Cruz in the assertion of claims upon the Custom-house of that city under the authority of General Miramon. These rumors are, of course, improbable in the highest degree. We have no reason to suppose that either England or France intends to assume in respect of General Miramon the attitude which we hold the United States bound to take in respect of President Juarez. Still the presence at Vera Cruz of a preponderating French and English naval force, when taken in connexion with the avowed hostility of the English and French Ministers to the Juarez Government, acts of course, as a moral drag upon that Government, and seriously impedes its action. It is at the same time a practical overweighing of the American influence in that quarter. For these reasons, therefore, and for other reasons not difficult to be divined, we think it eminently important that a strong naval force should be at once dispatched to the Gulf, with orders to recognize the Juarez Government in all becoming ways, and to take up such an attitude in these waters as our Envoy may think it best to assume. The American squadron in the Gulf should at once be raised not merely to an equality with the combined forces of England and France, but to a positive superiority over these forces. Much, very much more than it is now easy or desirable to suggest, of the future relations of the United States with Mexico depends upon the course of our Minister during the next few months. If the Government of Mr. Buchanan means to assert the fundamental principles of an American policy, the moment calls for immediate and decisive action.

Foreign War and Home Interests.

In the near prospect of a great European war it becomes important for us to consider the effects of such a conflict upon our domestic interests. It is a tradition that "war brings poverty," and many of our people will doubtless begin to tremble at the vista of tight money-markets and depressed industry which once was wont to gleam through the open portals of the temple of Janus. But it is worth while to remember that in the face of the enormous influx of gold upon the world's commerce since 1847, the Crimean War itself failed to affect the money markets of the world, as the prophets of evil had expected, and that at the present moment the war-rumors of Europe have unfavorably influenced the speculative branches alone of our domestic enterprise. Our cotton and produce markets show symptoms rather of advance than of decline; and the more solid any American industry is, the less is it likely to suffer by the coming storm. The crash of 1857 has done us a world of good in this respect, by withdrawing vast amounts of European capital from our country. Were war to break out to-morrow abroad, we should find it followed, after a momentary shock, by a general rise in all our securities; for Europe holds no American securities now which she can afford to sell, and her capital would soon begin to flow to us for fresh and secure investment—as soon, that is, as the pressure of demand for new Government loans abroad should begin to be felt in the rising value of money.

It must be remembered, also, that the probabilities of war at present existing in Europe do not point to such a conflict as would necessarily exert any injurious influence upon our foreign exchanges and relations.

A maritime war between France and England would, doubtless, inflict a severe and, perhaps, a paralyzing blow upon the great foreign industries which are nourished by our vast production. A maritime war between England and Russia would have a similar effect, though in a milder form. But a continental war between France and Austria must almost certainly be followed by a directly contrary result. The great efforts which must be put forth by France in such a contest will communicate a positive impulse to all her producing and tax-paying energies. As the wars with Napoleon generated in Great Britain the most marvellous developments of industry which the world up to that time had seen, and enabled the English people under the pressure of necessity, to laugh all the woful predictions of the economists to scorn, so a war with Austria, leaving the ocean open to France, must be attended by financial measures favorable to French commerce in general, and especially to that branch of French commerce which deals with the import of the raw materials of manufacture. By cutting off, as her fleets will enable her to do, the immense Austrian commerce in the Mediterranean, now grown to the third rank in Europe, France will throw open the supply of the East to her own factories and ships, in common with those of England, the United States, Sardinia, and all other maritime nations. The sweeping from the seas of the Austrian commercial marine, now amounting to more than half a million of tons, must be speedily felt to the advantage of that one branch of American enterprise, the shipping interest, which has been the slowest of recovery from the shock of 1857. Our breadstuffs will come into an expanding demand; and this quickened activity of our commerce will inevitably make itself felt through every branch of investment and speculation. Were the present excitement to pass away in the settlement of the Italian question by a general Congress, the same result will probably follow from the past and the actual preparations of the contending Powers. The withdrawal from production of the great numbers of men now under arms in Europe, and the general uneasiness excited by the discussion of the past few months, are the guarantees of a vivid and unusual demand abroad for all the exports of the United States. Let the question be resolved as it may, we, at least, must gain by its agitation.

Cruelty to Sailors.

The commanders and mates of our merchant ships are gaining, or we may, with greater justice say, have gained, a most damaging reputation for cruelty to the seamen under their charge; and if this reputation should be confirmed, as we have but too much reason to fear it will be, from the frequent reports that are made of the maltreatment of the crews on board our ships, the difficulty of manning our merchant navy, which must be the consequence, will seriously affect our commercial prosperity. The records of our Marine Court exhibit a fearful history of cruelty and savage persecution on the part of our shipmasters and their mates towards their crews. And these cases of cruelty and barbarous treatment are the rule and not the exception on board our ships. Last year, when the captain of an English ship was hung, in Liverpool, for the inhuman murder of one of the sailors under his charge, the masters of the American ships, in that port, displayed their colors at half mast, on the day of the execution, in token of their disapproval of the punishment of the murderer, and their sympathy with him.

Within a few days reports have been received here of shocking outrages committed on board of our ships, in various parts of the world. The commander of one of the ships of the Paraguay squadron has been court-martialed for having, by his cruelty, driven one of his sailors to jump overboard to escape the wanton persecutions by which the poor wretch was harassed; in Liverpool the captain of an American ship was arrested for causing the death of a sailor, and in San Francisco, last month, the captain of the American bark Sarah Park, was arrested for having treated his crew in a manner that transcends belief. One of the wretched creatures under the charge of this modern Blackbeard, had been made a lunatic by the cruelties inflicted upon him; and two of his sailors had been brought to the office of the United States Marshal in the last stages of starvation, their bodies horribly lacerated, and their whole condition pitiable in the extreme. The alleged cause for the horrible barbarities practiced upon these poor wretches was the crime of pilfering a piece of biscuit from the ship's stores, when they were placed upon short allowance. Besides the cruelties practiced upon these miserable creatures, the master of the bark was accused of the murder of one of his crew, who was thrown overboard. This last was an extreme case, no doubt, but there have been too many which bore a resemblance to it, and it stands the great mass of our shipmasters in hand to do something to free themselves from the reproach which their repeated acts of barbarity bring upon them as a class.

Our countrymen are not naturally of a cruel and vindictive nature, and, if they were, their proverbial shrewdness ought to be sufficient to preserve them from the unprofitable blunder of maltreating the very men upon whose lives their own safety and welfare depend. Our shipmasters are renowned for their generosity, frankness, and hearty good nature on shore; and we are continually receiving reports of their gallantry and noble conduct at sea; passengers delight in making them presents of silver trumpets in testimony of their gratitude for courtesies received, and every now and then Her Britannic Majesty sends a gold chronometer to one of our shipmasters as a reward for his humanity in rescuing some of her subjects from the perils of shipwreck on the ocean. As a class, we believe that our shipmasters are a very worthy, humane and gallant set of men, and it is puzzling to know that there can be any such inhuman monsters, whose cruel natures and savage dispositions are only developed when they get off soundings, and who are so utterly wanting in common prudence as to starve, beat, maim, and wantonly persecute the men without whose assistance they could not navigate their ships.

Excessively Ill-Natured.—The Washington States is very severe on the President for having appointed Chevalier Wikoff to carry the treaty to China on a salary of eight dollars a day and expenses. It says a great many harsh things about the Chevalier who "makes it his boast" according to the States, "that Palmerston once employed him to do the dirty work of the British Government." It strikes us that the States is unreasonable. We see no reason why Mr. Buchanan should be more fastidious in selecting his tools than Lord Palmerston. Indeed as the work he has to do is even "dirtier" than his Lordship's, he may plume himself on being able to employ the same agents. One of the Chevalier's exploits for the last year or two has been to keep the Herald up to the mark in its championship of Mr. Buchanan; and we are sure his labors have not been overpaid by the $1800 which the President has allowed him for it. The mission to China is for other services, equally important, though perhaps less arduous. We have no doubt Mr. Buchanan thinks the Chevalier's absence from the country cheaply purchased at eight dollars per diem, provided he takes with him the private letters and other delicate documents which have mysteriously come into his possession. The States must remember that Mr. Buchanan is a great diplomatist, and that men who have important objects to accomplish cannot be expected to be too fastidious as to the means they employ.

Meantime we congratulate Chevalier Wikoff on his good fortune,—on the money he has "realized," as well as the honors he has achieved. We trust his absence will not be protracted, and that he will devote it to the preparation of another volume of his Adventures as a Roving Diplomatist. The history of his negotiations with the President, and other parties in interest, for the last two years, could not fail to be a good deal more interesting than the narrative of his Courtship or the detail of his dealings with Lord Palmerston. Let him return from the flowery land with the manuscript ready for the press. It may earn him an appointment from the next Administration.

What are Fomites?—One week ago not ten men in this town cared a dime what "fomites" meant, but the action of the late Quarantine Convention has brought the word into everybody's mouth, and made its meaning a matter of life and death to us all. That Convention, by a vote of 85 to 6, (and who the 85 are, and what virtue attaches to their vote our advertising columns have shown,) recorded as its opinion that "personal quarantine of yellow fever cases may be safely abolished, provided that fomites of every kind be rigidly restricted."

Fomites, according to Dunglison's Lexicon, "is the plural of fomes—fuel, anything which retains heat. A term applied to substances which are supposed to retain contagious effluvia, as woolen goods, feathers, cotton, &c." In its larger sense, however, it is used of any and all clothing, all bales, boxes, and casks of goods, all bedding and filth, and the ships themselves that have brought yellow fever to port. It was long a question whether the human body, when charged with yellow fever, might not be properly considered fomites. When one has inhaled ether, his breath and everything about him for days advertises the fact by its peculiar odor. Might not the poison of yellow fever also cling to the sufferer from it for days, and be emitted in his breath or by his insensible perspiration with sufficient virulence to propagate the miasm? It was not unreasonable to suppose that it might, but as there is no case on record where the person has possessed this poisonous power, the Convention did not hesitate to declare that persons are not fomites. So the Convention has no objection to the removal of the sick with yellow fever from on shipboard to the Broadway Hospital, or to their homes, nor to passengers on infected vessels, if with changed clothing, and personally in cleanly condition, spreading themselves at will through the City. Nor need there be any suspicion that the sick or exposed are to be shorn of their hair and beards, and let up like convicts to breed a panic by their very deprivation, and advertise the danger they have been through. The "person" is construed to mean everything pertaining to the human form divine, that soap and water liberally applied will not wash off; growing hairs are not fomites.

As Dr. Jerome, the new physician to Marine Hospital, was among those who voted aye to Dr. Stevens' resolution, the Staten Islanders, while glorifying the virtual removal of Quarantine by Governor Morgan, and the Quarantine item of the Supply bill, may add another tar-barrel to their bonfires, in honor of the token that one of the chief executors of the Port Health laws is not among the strict restrictionists.

Sharp Competition.—Two of the Boston newspapers announce that the Boston and Worcester Railroad Company have determined to reduce their tariff on Western freight "over one hundred per cent.,"—and it is added that similar action will be taken by other Companies. This is a blow at New-York which must tell. How much "over" one hundred per cent. the rates are to be reduced, we are not informed. The Boston schoolmaster ought not to be "abroad" so long; his services are evidently wanted at home.

Governor Wise's Letter.—We publish this morning a reasonably full, though greatly condensed, abstract of Governor Wise's thirty-column letter, to which we alluded yesterday. Without attempting to give the historical and argumentative parts of this epistle, we have presented all its positions, and those of the most striking interest are given in his own language.

This letter is really an exceedingly able document, and is very important in its relation to current politics. It is really a voluminous treatise on the Constitution, and the provisions of that instrument, so far as they relate to the government of Territories, the admission of new States, and the general subject of Slavery. It maintains the absolute and imperative duty of the Federal Government to interfere for the protection of slave-property in the Territories, and presents by far the ablest argument that has ever yet been made in support of that position.

Whatever may be said of his eccentricities, Gov. Wise is a man of strong intellect,—of great acuteness and large acquaintance with the history of the country,—perfectly free and frank in the formation and utterance of his opinions, and much more inclined to win position and power by audacity than by intrigue. This letter places him at the head of the ultra school of Southern Democrats;—but it will do little towards making him President. Ingenious as its argument is, it will not convince the great body of the people or influence their action. Upon such a point as this, the masses are governed far more by sentiment than by logic;—and it will not be easy to bring the country to support the doctrines which are here set forth.

Pictures and their Frames.

Mr. Church's departure from the prescriptions of his art in the matter of a frame for his picture, the "Heart of the Andes," has already begun to do its work. Like all successful innovations it has provoked doubts from the wise among the conservative, and sneers from the impotent among the progressive. Those who think that three hundred years of usage ought to sanction any fact whatever, and those who would gladly mark out new paths for themselves, were they capable of doing so, are equally loud in their condemnation of what they affect to regard as a piece of affectation and "trickery" in Art.

We are sorry to find in our accomplished contemporary, the Albion, which has justly earned a title to serious consideration in matters critical and artistic, a very precise and positive attack upon the principle of Mr. Church's modification, which may perhaps afford aid and comfort to these highly uncommendable censors. The Albion, after frankly confessing that the picture "could not be seen" on the first night of its exhibition, goes on to find very serious fault with "the setting." "This," says our contemporary, "is intended to represent the embrasure of a window through which you may suppose yourself to be looking. * * * The optical illusion being aided by the lines and panelling that are cleverly designed to produce an artificial perspective. As an accessory to Mr. Church's picture it is Barnumesque and altogether objectionable." This is very emphatic language, and it has already been reproduced by less authoritative journals, as for instance by the Evening Post, which borrows almost the very language of the Albion, but with characteristic dishonesty pretends to regard the frame in question as a device of the "exhibitor," and proceeds in this covert way to insult the artist by whom it was designed. Will the Albion allow us to suggest a question as to the possibility of forming a fair judgment upon the fitness or unfitness of any frame to the due development of any picture, under a light which made the said picture wholly invisible? If it was not possible for our friend to make out the tones of the painting, it certainly could not have been possible for him to decide upon the manner in which those tones were affected by the "Muse of Cabinet-Making." But letting this pass, it is important that the error of supposing Mr. Church's new frame to be "intended to represent the embrasure of a window" should be done away with at once. It is intended simply to be a frame, of such a form, of such proportions, and of such a hue as will produce the best effect of harmonious optical adjustment upon the design and the coloring of the picture. Every ordinary picture-frame represents the embrasure of a window just as truly as this of Mr. Church. Every frame is designed, more or less "cleverly," to produce an "artificial perspective." The mere "breadth and depth" of this particular frame upon which the Albion so dwells, with special reprobation, are by no means unprecedented. We find in such instances as that of Andrea del Sarto's exquisite Madonna del Sacco, and other lunette pictures familiar to connoisseurs, an attempt at analogous "arrangements" made by the elder painters with greater or less success. The resemblance of Mr. Church's frame in point of design and moulding to such deep embrasured windows as one finds in the old English houses, for example in Warwick Castle or at Littlecote, is the only reasonable excuse for this mistaken apprehension alike of its purpose and its effect. Mr. Church has merely substituted for the tawdry and deadly glitter of the conventional gilding, and for the false and shallow perspective of the conventional frame—a subdued and neutral tone of color, and a natural convergence of optical lines, in the "setting" of his picture. The scale of the painting dictated what the Albion treats as the "cumbersome" size of the wood-work, and if our neighbor will take the trouble to study the work in that "excellent light" which it now enjoys, we are confident that he will revise what we must esteem his rather hasty judgment upon the case. In the panel-works of Rubens and Albano, in the black "embrasures" employed so constantly by Cuyp and Teniers, and in other "devices" too numerous to be here dwelt upon, the history of Art affords us many examples of tentative progress in the direction which Mr. Church has followed so far, so boldly, and as we think, so successfully.

Columbia College.—William G. Peck has been appointed Professor of Mathematics in Columbia College in place of Professor Davies, who is made Professor of the higher Mathematics. Professor Peck has been for the last two years an assistant in the department of which he is now made the head.

Something more than a Gentle Hint.—On a recent occasion, one of the steamboats on the Delaware, plying between Taconey and Philadelphia, was unusually crowded with passengers, and a number of gentlemen had taken seats in the ladies' saloon. Two fashionable and charming young ladies entering the saloon late, and seeing no vacant seats, one of them, before the aforesaid gentlemen had time to rise, let fly at them a regular Sharp's rifle shot. Said she, addressing her companion, "Perhaps we might find seats in the gentlemen's saloon." One of the gentlemen, both of whom were in the act of rising when the shot was fired, promptly returned the volley, with, "Ladies, perhaps there are some gentlemen present who will give you seats in this saloon." The ladies smiled sweetly, and with a graceful flirt of their ample crinoline, and with an air of self-satisfaction which plainly said, "Guess we have given them one good lesson in woman's rights," assumed the seats just vacated. There was a marked sensation on their part a few moments after, when some bystander informed them that one of the gentlemen at whom they had aimed the witty rebuke, and who had as quickly repelled it, was no less a personage than Henry Ward Beecher!

Mr. Beecher was on his way to lecture in Philadelphia that evening—subject, "The Burdens of Society." The young ladies referred to were among his audience, and at the close of the lecture one of them remarked that she was "dying to convey to the distinguished lecturer a request that he would amend that address by adding to the 'burdens,' the too common practice among traveling gentlemen, including some very gallant clergymen, of jumping into seats expressly designed for the accommodation of ladies."

Academy of Music.

Mlle. Piccolomini commences to-night her series of farewell performances under the management of Mr. Strakosch. The opera selected for the occasion is the ever-popular "Traviata," with Brignoli and Amodio in their original characters.

WALLACK'S THEATRE.

Colman's play of the "Iron Chest" was revived here last night with good success. The cast included all the admirable artists now at this establishment, and the performance was unexceptionable.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Nicholas Hill died at Albany on Sunday, May 1, at the age of 53. The Albany Atlas and Argus gives the following sketch of his life:

"He was born in Montgomery County, and was the son of a Revolutionary soldier, who afterwards became a preacher, and lived to a venerable age. Mr. Hill was educated to the legal profession, and pursued it first in Amsterdam, and afterwards in Saratoga County. In partnership with Sidney Cowen, he prepared Cowen & Hill's Notes to Phillipps' Evidence, a work of great erudition and value. In the latter part of 1840, he was appointed State Reporter, which office he held till 1845. His volumes constitute the most valuable of the series of the New York Reports. On taking up his residence in Albany, he entered into partnership with Mr. Cagger, and the firm, with which John K. Porter was soon after associated, continued till his death. Since then, he has devoted himself to the higher labors of his profession, and he may be said to have attained in it a position above all others. He gave to it all his faculties, and all his heart. He was deeply interested in politics; but only as they involved great Constitutional questions; or as they enlisted that strong sentiment of American feeling and of patriotism, which he inherited from his Revolutionary father. During the U. S. Bank contest he was nominated by the Democrats of the Saratoga District for Congress, and was in 1854 again nominated for the Court of Appeals. But in neither case was he an aspirant for the office, but was put forward by his party friends as the best exponent and type and unsuspected advocate of the great constitutional questions involved in the issues before the people. The perfect simplicity of his life, and his singleness of ambition, in which he was so successful, placed him above all temptations. He could not be petty or unfair, or disingenuous.

Gustave Barron, Esq., one of the oldest and most wealthy foreign merchants of Mexico, died at the Capital of that Republic on the morning of April 11. Mr. Barron was a British subject. He went to Mexico soon after the independence, and commenced business at Mazatlan. His wealth grew with his years, and as he became more and more wealthy he continually increased his enterprising labors. The town of Tepic owes all its present greatness to him. Soon after the discovery of the New Almaden quicksilver mine in California, Mr. Barron became the patron of the discoverer. He gave him large sums of money, and finally became the largest shareholder in the mine. The result of this venture is now known to the world. It has been the Golconda of the age, and has enriched all parties interested in it. Mr. Barron may with justice have been called one of the most enterprising and public spirited men in Mexico. He was noble and generous, a good friend, and a determined enemy. As a private person he has played a conspicuous part in Mexico—perhaps more so than any other person. His loss at this time may be considered a great one, for he was one of the most clear-headed men, and his advice always was courted by the temporary Governments and Foreign Ministers.

Lieutenant J. Sidney Henshaw, formerly in the naval service, and a nephew of Secretary Henshaw, died at Utica, N. Y., on the 29th April, aged 46. He was retired from the Navy under the administration of Mr. Polk, and had since resided in Utica, giving his attention to literary and scientific pursuits. During the famine in Ireland, in 1848, Lieut. Henshaw commanded one of the relief-vessels sent out from this country.

The Hon. Nathan Dayton, of Lockport, N. Y., died on the 26th April at his residence, in the sixty-fourth year of his age. He long maintained a prominent position in the western portion of the State. Much of his life was spent on the Bench. He held the office of First Judge of Niagara County from 1833 to 1836. In 1838 he was appointed Circuit Judge of the Eighth Circuit, which position he held until 1847.

The Hon. Francis Dimond, formerly United States Vice-Consul at Havana, Consul at Port-au-Prince, and at the commencement of the Mexican War, Consul at Vera Cruz, died at Providence last week. In 1853, he was elected Lieutenant-Governor of Rhode Island by the Democratic Party.

A colored man, Wm. H. Newby, died recently in California, where he edited the San Francisco Mirror of the Times. He was formally attached to the French mission to Hayti, as assistant Secretary to Consul Dillon.

Mr. Isaac D. Hamilton died at Galveston on the 19th April. He was an old Texan, and had seen such service as but few survived. He was at the storming of the Alamo, and left as dead at Fannin's massacre.

Mr. Enes Williams, a pioneer in the Miami Valley, died at Lebanon, O., on the 21st April, aged 81. He emigrated to the Northwest Territory in 1798, and from 1802 to 1805 taught the first school in the town of Lebanon.

Mr. Walter McPherson Bayne, an actor and painter, died in Boston, April 27, aged 64. He was a Scotchman, came to this country twenty years ago, and acted at the Tremont Theatre, in Boston.

The Hon. Willis Allen, a prominent citizen of Southern Illinois, and ex-Member of Congress, died in Williamson County on the 15th April. At the time of his death he was Judge of that Circuit.

Dr. H. A. Ackley, of Cleveland, O., a well-known surgeon, died in that city the 24th April, aged 49.

Mr. W. R. Babcock, a publisher in Charleston, died on the 25th April, aged 59. He was a native of Hartford, Conn.

The Health Bill at Albany—Note from Gen. Wetmore.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

It is not my intention to enter into a newspaper controversy with Mr. Spencer, or any other person, in regard to the circumstances which attended the loss of the New-York Health Bill in the Assembly, on the 19th of April last.

The incidents of that memorable occurrence were open to the observation of more than a hundred persons, and I have yet to learn from satisfactory evidence that there can be any real question as to the means by which the affirmative vote was defeated.

It will shortly become my duty, in conjunction with a colleague, to submit to the Sanitary Association a written report of all the facts in this case of which we are cognizant. These facts will be stated plainly and frankly, without fear or favor, to the end that the community at large may learn where the responsibility rests for the defeat of a measure so vitally important to the best interests of the City.

PROSPER M. WETMORE.

New-York, May 3, 1859.

From Arizona—The Indians—Mining Interests, &c.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

Tubac, A. T., Tuesday, April 12, 1859.

Since the late treaty with the Apache Indians, we have had no more stealing or murders; yet we fear every day that either the propensity of some of the bad men of the tribe to steal and rob, with their destitute condition, or the abuse of them by some equally as bad white men, will induce them again to commence their depredations. Poor Sonora will suffer. Hundreds have gone there to add to their horses and mules by thieving.

Lieut. Col. Reeves, of the infantry, has superseded Capt. Ewell in command of Fort Buchanan. Capt. E. continues in command of the dragoons.

Pesqueira is said to have again succeeded in a severe conflict with the Gandarists. It is reported that he took several guns and quite a number of prisoners. A report has been current for some days that he has taken Mazatlan, but we have no confidence in the truth of it. Gov. Pesqueira is prepared for any emergency. If he does not succeed in whipping out the Gandarists, he is likely to declare Sonora independent. He will do this rather than have the Gandarists succeed.

Few goods are being imported into Sonora, the foreign merchants not liking to risk the chances of civil war. This fact cuts off a large amount of Pesqueira's revenue, and obliges him to resort to taxation, which in a measure accounts for his unpopularity with the people. Had he the confidence of merchants and business men of the country, trade would increase so that the revenue from imports would pay the expenses of his army without resorting to taxation. Gandara's wealth had much to do with his influence, as he was able to support an army from his private income.

The silver mining interest continues to flourish. We hear that several companies are on their way out from the States. If they have patience and capital they will succeed, but if they come, induced by the exaggerated reports lately published, they will be disappointed. We saw some days ago a bar of silver from the Sonora Exploring and Mining Company worth $1,134. With one quarter of the works in operation, they will produce two such bars in six days. This bar was sent to Wm. T. Coleman & Co., Wall-street, New-York, they being the agents of the Company. Previous shipments have been made to California. We understand it is now the intention of the Director, Mr. Lassner, to ship to New-York. B.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—A very large audience of ladies and gentlemen attended the regular meeting of the Historical Society last evening. Mr. GEORGE H. MOORE read a paper written by Mr. THOMAS EWBANK describing the collection of Peruvian antiquities, containing three hundred specimens of Dr. DAVIS. Mr. H. B. DAWSON read the paper of the evening, entitled "The Sons of Liberty in New-York." He sketched the early history of the differences of the American Colonies and the mother country, and especially the measures of resistance to the Crown taken by the people of New York from 1665 to the time of the Revolution. To "The Sons of Liberty in New-York," at the head of whom were such men as JAMES ALEXANDER, WM. SMITH, WM LIVINGSTON and JOHN LAWRENCE SCOTT. Mr. DAWSON ascribed an influence which did much to induce the American Revolution. He dwelt particularly upon the public spirit of the merchants of New-York City, who sacrificed their own interests to their determination to secure the repeal of the obnoxious Stamp Act. The essay was purely historical.

PROBABLY FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.—The Express train on the Hudson River Railroad, which left Albany at 3.50 P. M. yesterday and reached Cruger's station after dark, just before entering the tunnel at the latter place, ran against a wagon loaded with furniture with two horses attached, which was crossing the track, seriously injured two men who were on the wagon, one of whom was in a dying condition when last heard from, killed one of the horses, and splintered the wagon and load into a thousand parts which were scattered along the track for some distance below the scene of the casualty. The remains of the horse, wagon and furniture were removed from the track just in time to make way for the train, northward bound, which came along soon after; and the train which ran over the wagon was delayed some twenty minutes by the accident. The passengers were thankful that the cars were not thrown off the track and themselves injured.

EXAMINATIONS AT THE UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—The different Classes in the Union Theological Seminary are now passing through their Spring examinations. Yesterday, at 9 A. M. and 4 P. M., the Junior Class was examined in the Hebrew of the year by Mr. HADLEY. At 11 A. M., the Middle Class was examined by the Rev. Dr. SKINNER in Pastoral Theology. To-day, at 9 and 11 A. M. and 4 P. M., the Senior, Junior and Middle Classes will be examined in Hebrew, Theology and the Greek Testament, respectively, by Mr. HADLEY and the Rev. Drs. SMITH and ROBINSON. The examinations will continue daily until Monday, when the Anniversary of the Seminary will be held in the Mercer-street Church, at 7½ P. M.

EARTHQUAKE AT SEA.—The ship Sheffield, Capt. GREEN, arrived at this port yesterday, in 150 days from Honolulu. On the 30th of April, when in lat. 39° 55' North, longitude 49° 40' West, Capt. GREEN reports having experienced three distinct shocks of an earthquake, the first occurring at 4:25, the second at 5:40, and the third at 6:10 o'clock A. M. The ship was made to tremble in every timber, and there was a loud noise not unlike a violent clap of thunder. The mate, who was on duty at the time, says the sea for some time previous to the phenomenon presented the appearance of a tide-rip. The shocks continued about three-quarters of a minute each.

MR. LORD'S LECTURE.—Mr. LORD's lecture on DANTE drew out a large audience at Clinton Hall on Monday evening. It was a summary of the labors of DANTE on the civilization of Europe. The best part of the lecture was a presentation of that principle on which a lofty passion is based, and the noble effects to which such a passion can stimulate a man of genius. The analysis of the poem was also presented, with a glowing eulogy on the greatest poet of modern times, SHAKESPEARE alone excepted. The sorrows of the man and his bitter experiences, which prepared him for his great task, were ably presented, and the whole lecture was original, fresh and instructive. LUTHER is the subject of the next, on Thursday evening.

A HOTEL PORTER KILLED.—Yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, a coach load of passengers was being conveyed from the St. Nicholas Hotel to the New-Jersey Railroad, and as the coach turned the corner of Broadway and Canal street, one of the front wheels caught in the Railroad track, swinging the body of the vehicle round, and precipitated GEORGE RANDALL, one of the porters of the hotel to the ground. He was picked up in an insensible condition, and it was found his skull was fractured. He died at the New-York Hospital in about an hour.

REMOVAL OF A CHURCH.—We learn that the Broome-street Reformed Dutch Church have determined, at no distant date, to sell their property and remove up town to the vicinity of Eighth-avenue and Thirty-fourth-street. For this purpose, a union has been effected with the Livingston Reformed Dutch Church, which will hereafter be known as the "Up-town Chapel of the Broome street Church." The Rev. F. N. ZABRISKIE, of the Livingston Church, withdraws, and the Rev. PETER STRYKER becomes the Pastor of the united enterprise.

ATTEMPTS AT SUICIDE.—CATHERINE SULLIVAN, residing at No. 1 Albany-street, becoming tired of life, swallowed some sugar of lead on Monday evening. She was found insensible in the street, taken to the Station-house and the poison removed. ALEXANDER MOCHIE, a German barkeeper, was found late last evening in Centre-street, suffering from the effects of poison, which he had taken for the purpose of self-destruction. He was taken to the Hospital.

STABBING.—THOS. FURLONG and BERNARD MCCABE, after drinking several times together at a groggery, got into a quarrel. After exchanging a few hearty blows, FURLONG drew a large jack-knife and stabbed MCCABE in the left breast, inflicting a deep and dangerous wound. The injured man was taken to his residence, No. 125 East Twenty-ninth street. FURLONG who is a carman, was arrested and locked up for trial.

TAX COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED.—Comptroller HAWS yesterday reappointed JONATHAN W. ALLEN, JOSIAH W. BROWN and AMOS J. WILLIAMSON Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments. The appointment has been delayed some time, and much anxiety among applicants for the office is quieted by the final determination of the Comptroller to retain the present incumbents.

FALSE TOKEN.—A false token purporting to be a $5 bill on the New-York City Bank, made its appearance last evening. The vignette is a female seated in a field of grain with a child in her lap, flanked on either side by a head of liberty. The back of the bill has "Five" stamped on it in red letters. There is no such bank in this city.

FATAL FALL.—EDWARD HEEKER died yesterday at the City Hospital, from injuries received by falling from a second story window of No. 357 Broadway, while engaged in putting up a sign. He was a Prussian, and leaves a family. An inquest was held by one of the Coroners, and a verdict of "Accidental death" rendered.

BOY RUN OVER AND KILLED.—JOHN GOODWIN, a boy nine years old, while riding on a cart, slipped and fell in front of one of the wheels, which passed over him, injuring him so that he died. An inquest was held yesterday, and a verdict rendered, attributing the death to accident.

A CHILD KILLED BY GIN!—ARTHUR HENNESSEY, four years old, whose parents reside at No. 250 Twelfth-street, while ransacking a closet, yesterday, came across a bottle of gin, and drank sufficient of it to cause his death in a few hours. Coroner JACKMAN held an inquest, and a verdict was rendered accordingly.

FIRE IN MULBERRY-STREET.—The alarm at 12 o'clock last night in the Fifth District, was caused by the burning of a window-curtain in the attic of a house on the corner of Mulberry and Houston streets. Damage very slight.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—GEORGE J. LAPHAM, aged 18 years, was run over by a lumber wagon in Broadway yesterday afternoon. The wheels passed over his body, and it is thought his injuries will prove fatal. He was taken to the New-York Hospital.

FIRE IN TWENTY-SECOND-STREET.—At 5 o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the steel manufactory of AMES & Co., corner Twenty-second-street and Second-avenue. The damage was $100. Insured.

FIRE IN CHERRY-STREET.—The roof of the bakery of Mr. STAFFORD, No. 394 Cherry-street, caught fire a little after 4 o'clock yesterday morning. Damage by fire and water was $150. Insured.

FIRE IN WASHINGTON-STREET.—At 12½ o'clock this morning, a fire took place in a grocery store on the corner of Washington and Rector streets. Damage about $200; insured.

Police Reports.

ROBBING A PICKPOCKET.—Jack Roach, known to the Police as "Slippery Jack," and who boasts of having been successfully engaged in picking pockets for fifteen years, appeared at the Twenty-second Ward Station-house, yesterday, and complained that some scamp had entered his bedroom and stolen a pocket-book, containing $60, from under his pillow. Jack would not have complained, if it had been taken out of his pocket while he was awake; but he despises any one who would rob a man while asleep or drunk; and therefore promised the money to the Police, if they can find it.

A FRIEND TO BE DELIVERED FROM.—Augustus Richoff and John Brown, are both Germans, and were bosom friends. On Monday evening, Brown invited his friend to dine with him, and he did so. Brown had $100 in gold dollars in his pocket, and he showed them to his friend. After a while, Brown discovered that his money and friend had departed. He caused the arrest of Richoff on suspicion of having stolen the money. The accused was locked up to await examination.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—As Mr. Milna, of Williamsburgh, was passing through Roosevelt street, on Monday evening, on his way home, two men knocked him into the gutter, robbed him, and then fled. Two Fourth Ward policemen saw the act, pursued the robbers, and arrested them. They gave their names as Maurice Quinlan and Thomas Farley, and they were yesterday committed to the Tombs to answer.

DISORDERLY HOUSE BROKEN UP.—The Detective Police made a descent last evening on the house No. 16 Howard-street, kept by a man named Albert Smith. It appears a young girl named Sabina Lefy, aged 15 years, who had been an inmate of the place, made an affidavit in regard to the character of the house, and a warrant was issued by Justice BRENNAN. Six men and four girls were found in the place, and were taken to the Police Head-quarters.

ALLEGED SEDUCTION.—Hannah Connolly made complaint yesterday, before Justice WELSH, against Michael Donnohue of seduction under promise of marriage. The complainant is a middle-aged maiden lady, and the accused is an old man over sixty, has been for two years a widower, and now works at the Erie tunnel in New-Jersey. An officer was sent in search of him.

A DISHONEST HOTEL PORTER.—Thomas Kinny, who was employed as porter at the Blancard House, in Broadway, was arrested yesterday on a charge of breaking open the trunk of a female boarder and robbing it of nearly $70 worth of jewelry and dresses. Justice QUACKENBUSH locked him up for trial.

Governors of the Almshouse.

EXCITING MEETING—GENERAL OVERTURNING—REMOVALS AND APPOINTMENTS OF WARDENS.

The Board met yesterday afternoon at the usual hour. 7,043 inmates remained in the different institutions on the 30th ult., being a decrease during the week of 215; 27 died, 1,44[illegible] were discharged, 91 were sent to the Penitentiary, and 2 to the State Prison.

The baker on Blackwell's Island sent in a communication, asking for a reorganization of his department. Referred to Committee on Stores.

The Committee on Supplies reported in favor of awarding the contract for supplying Randall's Island with milk to Austin A. Fuller, at the price of 4½ cents per quart; that for supplying the Department with soft-soap to Thomas Hall, at the price of 50 cents a barrel; that for the services of a steamboat and barge for one year, to Oliver H. Clark, at $15 per day. The reports were all adopted.

Governor GUNTHER offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the salaries of the Supply Clerk the Clerk to the Board, Warden of the Penitentiary almshouse, Superintendent of the Workhouse, Wardens of Randall's Island and the City Prison be and the same are hereby fixed at the sum of $1,750 per annum; and the salary of the store keepers of Randall's and Blackwell's Island be and the same are hereby fixed at the sum of $.[illegible]40 per annum, to take effect on and after the 16th inst.

Great confusion followed the reading of the resolution.

Governor TOWNSEND charged that the step was needless, and that it was increasing the expenditure of the Board. He moved to refer it to the Special Committee on Salaries.

All but Governors TOWNSEND, SMITH and MCELROY voted in the negative.

Governor SMITH moved to amend by making the salaries $1,500 per annum if economy was the object aimed at. None of the officers receiving this amount objected to the small sum paid them.

Governor GUNTHER claimed that there was an economy of $250 in the diminution of the salaries.

Various amendments were made by Governor SMITH, the yeas and nays being called on every motion; but the resolution was finally adopted by a vote of 6 to 3—Governors Gunther, Dugro, Moloney, Oliver, B. F. Pinckney, Brueninghausen, in the affirmative; Governors Smith, Townsend and McElroy, in the negative.

Governor MOLONEY offered a resolution directing that a Clerk should be appointed at Bellevue Hospital, and one at the Lunatic Asylum, at a salary of $1,200 each, per annum.

Governor SMITH denounced the proceedings with great energy. "Now," said he, "the plot is out. This is saving at the spigot and wasting at the bunghole—cutting down $250 in one place, and adding $2,400 at another. Three weeks ago you would not have done this—then you were all trembling in your shoes for fear the Legislature would remove you."

Governor BRUENINGHAUSEN (interrupting)—Who was trembling?

Governor SMITH—You were.

Governor GUNTHER (interrupting)—Let him go on—let him go his full length—I will lay him out as the meanest white man in this Board.

Governor SMITH continued to denounce the proceedings. Governor BRUENINGHAUSEN attempted to call him to order; the members generally being in a state of confusion and excitement.

The resolution was finally adopted by a vote of 6 to 3, as before.

Governor GUNTHER then offered resolutions transferring N. P. Anderson from his position as storekeeper at Blackwell's Island to the Clerkship of the Lunatic Asylum; John Fitch from the Wardenship of the Penitentiary to the Storekeepership at Blackwell's Island, and Robert G. Walmsly, now Storekeeper at Randall's Island, to the Wardenship of the Penitentiary.

Governor SMITH eulogized Mr. Fitch, claiming that he had been faithful in the discharge of his duties, and that the removal from his present position was degrading. He denounced the six members of the Board who voted for these changes as conspirators.

Governor SMITH said he would not have supposed Republicans would have conspired with Democrats to injure members of their own party.

Governor DUGRO called the speaker to order. He had no right to use the term conspirators with reference to his associates. Governor GUNTHER acknowledged the proceeding was a conspiracy. After Governor SMITH had concluded his remarks, Governor OLIVER charged that the whole movement originated with Governor SMITH. He narrated the particulars of a secret caucus of the Republicans and Americans, in which he said Governor S took part. Governor SMITH branded his statement as false. Further explanation proved that Governor OLIVER was partially wrong, as Governor BRUENINGHAUSEN made the remarks attributed to Governor SMITH.

The resolutions were adopted by the same vote as before.

Governor OLIVER then offered resolutions transferring Joseph Keen from the Superintendency of the Workhouse to the Store-keepership of Randall's Island; Thomas J. Marshall from the Clerkship of the Almshouse to the Clerkship of the Workhouse, vice Charles W. Smyth, removed; and Thomas B. Tappan from the Wardenship of Randall's Island to the Clerkship of the Almshouse.

These changes were likewise effected after debate.

Governor BRUENINGHAUSEN then offered a resolution removing Jonathan Stearns from the Wardenship of the Almshouse.

Governor TOWNSEND said that this was the most disgraceful act of all. Col. Stearns, as every member of the Board knew, was on his death bed. That one of his own associates, a man elected to this Board by Republican votes, should use his influence to dismiss Col. Stearns when he had but a few days to live, was an act at which he could not express sufficient regret or surprise.

Governor SMITH confirmed Governor TOWNSEND's remarks, with reference to the state of Col. Stearns' health, and administered Governor BRUENINGHAUSEN a severe rebuke. The resolution was carried, and, on motion, the Board proceeded to ballot to fill vacancies.

Before doing so Governor MOLONEY attempted to introduce another resolution of removal. Apparently a screw had become loose. After a laying together of heads it was tightened up and the balloting was about proceeding, when Governors TOWNSEND and SMITH gave notice that they should enter another protest against the legality of the proceedings, as the Governors were destroying the political balance which had been preserved in the different institutions.

Moses B. Crasto was elected Warden of Randall's Island, Charles P. Degieck Warden of the Almshouse, Stephen M. Drew, formerly Clerk to the storekeeper on Blackwell's Island, was elected Superintendent of the Workhouse, Edward A. Ebbetts was elected Clerk of Bellevue, and Charles Henry Clerk to the storekeeper of Blackwell's Island.

Governors SMITH and TOWNSEND refused to vote on every ballot, and finally in company with Governor MCELROY withdrew from the meeting. After the elections had been completed Governor BRUENINGHAUSEN moved to reconsider the action taken. All present voted in the negative and the Board adjourned. Governor W. T. PINKNEY was absent on account of sickness.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board of Supervisors yesterday adopted a resolution, offered by Mr. BELL, directing that the Committee on County Offices report to the Board at the next meeting the nature of the service charged for by the present and the late Sheriff, under the head of "For conveying prisoners subpœnaed by the Court of General and Special Sessions to prisons other than the State prisons." A resolution offered by Mr. VOORHIES, directing that the Commissioners appointed to superintend the building of a new City Hall be requested to proceed immediately to discharge the duties incumbent upon them as such Commissioners, was referred to the Committee on the New City Hall.

The Board directed that the bill of the Coroners for services during the quarter ending March 31, amounting to $3,308 37 be paid. The bill of Norman McLeod, amounting to $359 71, for supplies furnished the County jail, was allowed. The reports of the Committee on Printing and Stationery in favor of paying the bills of M. Armstrong & Sons, E. H. Arnold, Cary, Howard & Sanger, and Edmund Jones & Co., for stationery furnished the County amounting altogether to $360 49, were adopted. The Board directed that the bill of James Galway, amounting to $269 38, for painting the County Clerk's office, be paid. The Committee on Criminal Courts and Police, reported adversely on the bills of R. French, for meals furnished jurors on trials in the Superior Court. The Committee holds that the County is not liable for meals furnished jurors in civil causes.

The report was adopted, and the Board adjourned to Tuesday at 3 P. M.

Horrible Murder from Religious Fanaticism

From the Troy Times, May 3.

The quiet Sabbath was broken in upon yesterday by the commission of a horrid murder, in the town of Sandlake, about 14 miles from Troy, of a daughter by her father and only surviving parent, a man about 60 years of age, named JOHN BELDING. The scene of the homicide is about 4 miles east of Sliter's Tavern, and near the steam saw-mill on the Sandlake road. The parties lived in a little house, in which the father earned a livelihood for himself and daughter by following the trade of a shoemaker. The daughter's name was CHRISTINA. She is about 19 years of age, and is described by the neighbors as a quiet and well-behaved girl. She had been unwell for some time, and, it is said, had been under the care of a female doctress residing in Berlin, in this County, named WEAVER. Her mind, it appears, was somewhat affected, but whether from religious excitement or from some other cause, we are unable to say. She labored under the impression that the devil had possessed her, and used to pray very frequently for deliverance from his grasp. A day or two before the murder, the old man and daughter went over to the house of DAVID HORTON, who resided opposite the BELDINGS, when CHRISTINA said she had taken medicine of Mrs. WEAVER, and it made her feel as if "the devil was in her, and she would scratch him off; but that she had thrown the medicine away, and drove the devil away, too." The old man had not done [illegible] work recently, as it affected the girl's head, and it is supposed that in consequence of his care of her, want of sleep, &c., his own mind had become temporarily affected, and while under the delusion that "Dena," as he calls her, was the devil, he killed her.

The account which BELDING gives of the affair is that he saw the devil lying on the bed, and he struck it in the face. The girl, it appears, was lying down in the back room. BELDING followed her from that room to the front room, in which the murder was committed with a shoemaker's hammer. Her skull was completely smashed to pieces. Portions of the hair were scattered about the room, and pieces of the skull were lying over the floor. Her face, too, was considerably bruised and disfigured, but no marks of violence were discovered on the other parts of her body. BELDING says he thought she was the devil—that she appeared to him to be four times as large as "Dena"—that her face was too large for "Dena"—and from his previous and subsequent conduct there can scarcely be a doubt that the old man imagines he had a fight with the devil, or, as he expresses it, with "three devils, and he had all he could do to kill them." They lived alone in the house. It is supposed the murder was committed about 12½ o'clock yesterday afternoon. The first person who discovered the murder was [illegible], who first saw the old man outside the house. He appeared very much excited, and told [illegible] that he had "Killed the devil, and it was lying in there," pointing to his house. [illegible] looked in and discovered the dead body of the daughter. He asked the old man if it was not DENA that he had killed? BELDING replied that he did not think it was. BELDING's hands and shirt-sleeves were covered with blood. [illegible] testified before the Coroner's jury that the father and daughter had lived with him about six months, previously to their residing in the house where the murder was committed, and that they always appeared happy together, and, as the witness expressed it, "Never had any crazy times." CHRISTINA was a quiet, good girl.

BELDING was raving like a maniac when the Coroner arrived. Several witnesses were examined, and the jury rendered a verdict that, "In their opinion, said CHRISTINA BELDING came to her death on Sunday, May 1, 1859, from fractures of the skull, and said injuries were inflicted with a hammer in the hands of her father, JOHN BELDING—he at the time laboring under temporary aberration of mind."

The Grand Jury sit to-day. The evidence in the case will be handed over to them for their action at once. They will probably authorize a commission to investigate the sanity of the murderer, and if he is declared insane, will send him to the Lunatic Asylum; or they will indict him for murder, as in their opinion the evidence warrants.

Circular.

The undersigned invite purchasers of MEN'S SPRING CLOTHING, for their own use, to the large and varied assortment, got up with more than usual care in style of cut, make, and selection of goods. No pains are spared to have everything well made and well and appropriately trimmed, so as to give the greatest value to the purchaser for the amount of money paid. As we never deviate from the marked price in selling, we use great care in fixing the price, so that it will be as low or lower than can be found elsewhere, of the same quality in every respect.

Our CUSTOM DEPARTMENT never gave such universal satisfaction as during the present season. The cutters are first class, and the assortment of piece goods as desirable as can be found.

The great reputation of A. M. & Co. in Boys' Clothing supersedes the necessity of saying more than that the assortment already in store is larger and more desirable than ever.

PAIN CONTROLLED.
In all agonizing diseases the first object is to arrest pain. This is done immediately, and without the peril attending the use of chloroform or opium, by administering inwardly or applying outwardly, or both, RADWAY'S READY RELIEF. It does not stupify or congest the brain, or throw the patient into a state of asphyxia; it simply annihilates pain, counteracts irritation, and diffuses a gentle glow, the first earnest of returning health throughout the system. Hence in external injuries, such as bruises, wounds, contusions, burns, &c., it is invaluable. But its grandest results are witnessed in acute diseases of the stomach and bowels, in remittent, intermittent, and other Fevers, in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Tic Doloreaux, General Debility, and those distressing and depressing Local Complaints and Weakness to which the feeble sex is exclusively subject. "Thrice is he armed" who has RADWAY'S three Remedies—the Relief, Regulating Pills, and Resolvent. He is prepared for all constitutional and other disorders, and may traverse the world without consulting a physician.

THE GREEK NEW TESTAMENT,
FROM THE VATICAN MS.
D. APPLETON & CO.,
Nos. 346 and 348 Broadway,
PUBLISH THIS DAY
THE GREEK NEW TESTAMENT,
Revised and [illegible] by CARDINAL MAI.
REPRINTED FROM THE ANCIENT VATICAN MS.
One vol. 8vo. $[illegible]
From the London Correspondent of the Christian Watchman.
The Biblical critics among your readers will be gratified to learn that the Vatican Manuscript, the most famous codex of the original Scriptures of the New Testament, will shortly be made available to scholars at a reasonable price. The Vatican Manuscript, edited by Cardinal Mai, contains not only the New Testament, but also the Septuagint version of the Old Testament Scriptures, and in five folio volumes. The first four contain the Old, and the fifth the New [illegible] the only means of obtaining the Roman edition is by purchasing the entire work, at the cost of [illegible]. The Codex Vaticanus of the New Testament will now be printed in London, verbatim, from the Roman edition, recently published, at the price of only twelve shillings a copy. This manuscript is believed to be the most ancient in existence, and modern Biblical critics assign its date to the middle of the Fourth Century. Its history is involved in impenetrable obscurity, and no one can tell at what period it was first placed on the shelves of the Vatican; but early in the sixteenth century it was generally known throughout Europe as the most venerable manuscript of the New Testament. It has always been jealously guarded, and its contents concealed from vulgar gaze. When Dr. Bentley contemplated his edition of the Greek Testament in 1721, he visited Rome hoping to obtain permission to collate the Codex Vaticanus, but was denied access to the manuscript. [illegible] Cardinal Mai showed Prof. Tischendorf the printed [illegible] now recently published. More than thirty years ago the writer was favored with a view of the manuscript [illegible]. It is written on [illegible] all capitals, and destitute of [illegible]. [illegible] there are three columns.

THE MAGAZINE FOR THE MILLION!
And whilst boldly challenging competition, claim for it only what has been conceded by the most eminent men of this country from the time of its first publication, (over sixteen years since,) to the present day, viz:
1. That it is suitable to all classes of readers—statesmen, professional men, philosophers, poets, students, merchants, mechanics and farmers, all of whom may derive pleasure and profit from its pages.
2. That in it may be found the cream of all the world-renowned Reviews and Periodicals of Europe, with original articles and selections from the best fugitive literature of our own country.
3. That it contains more reading matter than any other magazine in the world; each weekly number
CONTAINING SIXTY-FOUR PAGES,
AND
A FINE STEEL PORTRAIT,
Making Three Thousand Three Hundred and Twenty-eight Pages, in a Year, with FIFTY-TWO STEEL ENGRAVINGS.
4. That it is the Oldest Periodical of its kind published in this country, having been published over 16 years.
5. That it is the cheapest publication of the day, whether it is judged by the quantity or quality of its contents.
6. That no library is perfect without it.
7. That to those with limited means, it is an admirable substitute for a library of miscellaneous books. And finally, that as a Family Magazine, it is perfectly unexceptionable in all respects.
Price, $5 per annum, or 13 cents a number, sent by mail, post paid, to any address in the United States. To clergymen, teachers, students and clubs, $4.

A CARD OF THANKS.—
AMERICAN DRAMATIC FUND ASSOCIATION.
The Directors desire to publicly express their obligations to all concerned in the recent amateur performance, by which the interests of the Society have been materially advanced, and its means of usefulness augmented.
They consequently acknowledge their indebtedness to the following, viz:
EDMUND SCHERMERHORN, Esq., who, as Chairman of the Provisional Committee, by his assiduity and personal exertion, contributed mainly to the great success of the demonstration.
To ALFRED L. CARROLL, Esq., for having so generously volunteered his valuable services as Secretary.
To J. KINGSLAND, Esq., for continued courtesy and kindly assistance in his position as President of the Stockholders of the Academy of Music.
To JOHN BROUGHAM and FRANK B. GOODRICH, Esqs., for their prompt assistance in writing and presenting a new play for the occasion.
To J. W. WALLACK, Esq., for so readily rendering his valuable aid in preparing the entertainment for representation.
To Mr. JOHN MOORE for his capable assistance as Stage Manager.
To the ladies and gentlemen who so effectually and successfully appeared, both in the dramatic and musical departments; and "though last, not least in our dear love," to the ever-sympathizing and generous public, which, as has always been the case, responded to the appeal with ardor and liberality.
By order of the Board of Directors.
C. S. BERNARD, Secretary.

SUMMER RESORTS.

SUMMER RETREAT.—THE LAKE MOHEGAN HOUSE is now open, and having undergone extensive improvements, being enlarged and refurnished, the proprietor is now ready to enter into arrangements for the season with families and others who desire a pleasant location near the City during the heat and dust of Summer. The House is situated four miles east of Peekskill, forty miles from New York by the Hudson River Railroad, in two hours; six trains a day each way. Carriages from every train to the house.

Being at the head of the lake, 1,100 feet above tide water, in full view of the Highlands of the Hudson, with fine drives and pleasant walks in every direction, it is one of the most desirable and accessible Summer retreats that can be found so near New-York.

Address A. W. PALMER, Peekskill Post-office.
Refers to Messrs. Tiffany & Co., Broadway; J. Winter, Banker, No. 44 Exchange place.

SUMMER BOARDING.—THE ASHLAND HALL Summer Boarding House, West Bloomfield, N. J., will be open for the reception of boarders on Monday, 16th of May. These fine premises are now in process of being fitted up, and furnished with all the appliances of a first-class Summer boarding-house. Its picturesque buildings, with their dry, elevated position, beautiful shady lawn in front, numerous fruit trees, and the near proximity of the whole to the West Bloomfield Railroad Dépôt (within two minutes' walk,) render this one of the finest retreats anywhere to be found within 12 miles New-York City, with which it has communication by railroad six times daily. For board, &c., apply to WARREN MINGUS, Proprietor, on the premises.

BOARD IN BLOOMFIELD, N. J.—A FEW persons can be accommodated with board in a family where the number is limited, and where all the comforts of home can be enjoyed. The rooms are large and airy and the place is pleasantly located, near the public green, and is within three or four minutes' walk of the Dépôt, and within an hour's ride of the City. Inquire of M. W. DODD, No. 506 Broadway, New York, or of Dr. KING, near the Depôt, Bloomfield, N. J.

COUNTRY BOARD.—ACCOMMODATIONS FOR six or eight persons can be obtained in a private family; the location is within 12 miles of the City Hall, is perfectly healthy, and one of the handsomest places to be had, with an abundance of fruit and everything to be desired on the place to make a country sojourn pleasant, terms moderate. Answers addressed J., Box No. 127 Times Office, will receive attention on the 7th inst.

COUNTRY BOARD.—TO LET—IN BLOOMFIELD, N. J., 50 minutes' ride from this City, six times a day, by railroad, a very neat cottage, and furniture and garden. RICORD'S PRACTICE.

Dr. C. D. HAMMOND, PUPIL of Ricord, of Paris, the first Special Surgeon living, and of Professors CARNOCHAN and MOTT, of New-York, is consulted privately at No. 61 Bleecker-st., a few doors east of Broadway. All complicated diseases of a certain class effectually treated, including Weaknesses, &c., &c. Office hours from 9 to 3, and from 6 to 9 in the evening. The principal languages spoken. Terms moderate.

CONFIDENTIAL MEDICAL AND SURGICAL consultations. Dr. R. COBBETT, No. 19 Duane-st., adopts this method of informing citizens and strangers that he has for the last 27 years confined his treatment solely to the cure of syphilitic, mercurial and other diseases of a private character. Although it is considered by a portion of the medical profession as a species of quackery for one of its legitimate members to advertise, still the great advantage the unfortunate victims of so fearful a malady derive from a regularly educated physician devoting his attention to this particular branch of the profession must be apparent.

It is deplorable to witness some of the cases that are presented to Dr. C., where the disease has been driven into the system by quacks to break out again in the form of spots and ulcers on the body, pains in the joints and throat, night sweats and emaciation.

Stricture.—Dr. C has discovered a new process by which he can cure the worst forms of stricture in from two to three weeks. Constitutional debility brought on by a secret habit indulged in by young men, effectually cured.

Dr. C. is a member of the New-York University Medical College, and the College of Surgeons, London, and the only graduate of the above institutions practising in his specialty in this City. N. B.—See his diplomas in his office, with the signatures of the Professors inscribed thereon; a sure guarantee against deception.

HUNDREDS OF THE UNFORTUNATE are disappointed of a cure by not calling on DR. HUNTER at first, the Hunterian Dispensary, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City. Established in 1834, for the Preservation of Human Life. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—Dr. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated not less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; it roots out the poisonous taint the blood is sure to absorb unless this remedy is used. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for nothing, that treats of the evil effects of early abuse and indulgence, is embellished with elaborate colored engravings, portraying every feature and phase of disease, exposes the fallacy of the ordinary modes adopted for the cure of local as well as hereditary maladies, and gives the only safe and infallible remedy for expunging every trace of the virus from the system.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO BOTH SEXES, MARRIED AND SINGLE, IN HEALTH OR DISEASE.—DR. LARMONT'S PARIS, LONDON AND NEW-YORK MEDICAL ADVISER AND MARRIAGE GUIDE. 30th edition. Over 400 pages, 12mo, cloth, about one hundred electrotyped engravings. Price $1. Sold also by W. A. Townsend & Co., No. 46 Walker-st., near Broadway. Among its contents is the anatomy of the sexual organs of the male and female, all their diseases and weaknesses; latest discoveries in reproduction; European Hospital practice; quacks, (advertising,) their recipes and specifics; the author's unequaled Paris and London treatment. At No. 647 Broadway, up stairs, three blocks above St. Nicholas Hotel, New-York, from 10 A. M. to 1, and 5 to 8 evenings.

HYATT'S PATENT LIGHTS.
A CARD HAVING BEEN ISSUED TO THE PUBLIC

By parties who frankly confess that they do not pay me for my invention, I avail myself of this opportunity to advertise the names of those who do. The following persons, only, are licensed under my patents in this City:

George R. Jackson & Co.
J. B. & W. W. Cornell & Co.
S. B. Althause & Co.
Ingalls & Case.
Theodore Hyatt.

The law is, that a person who purchases or uses a patented article is equally liable for infringement with the maker of it. The "makers" having fairly notified the "users" of their intention not to pay, the "users" have only themselves to blame if I collect my tariff of them—as I shall certainly do. THADDEUS HYATT.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, VERMONT CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY.—STATE OF VERMONT, IN CHANCERY, CHITTENDEN COUNTY.—Lawrence Brainerd and George M. Dexter, Surviving Trustees, et als., vs. The Vermont Central Railroad Company, et als.—Upon hearing in the above-entitled cause, upon bill, answer, traverse and testimony, it is ordered that said cause be referred to Charles Russell, of Burlington, as Special Master, and also to George S. Hale, of Boston, Massachusetts, as Special Commissioner, to act in that State, to ascertain and report, severally and respectively, as far as evidence shall be offered for that purpose, who may be at the time of the hearings before them, as hereinafter provided, the owners respectively of the first mortgage bonds, so called, of the Vermont Central Railroad, mentioned in the bill, the place of residence of such owners, and how much is due to each upon such bonds at the time of such hearings, or upon the interest thereon, and how much will grow due thereon, thereafter and when; and report to this Court thereon, the names of said bondholders so presenting their claims and the several amounts thereof respectively.

And it is by said Court hereby further ordered that all owners and holders of said bonds so-called, do severally present their said claims upon, and in respect thereto, before said Master or Commissioner for allowance and report, at the time and place to be by them respectively appointed, as hereinafter provided, and in default thereof they will be subject to such further order as this Court may make in the premises, in respect to their said unpresented claims being barred, and otherwise.

And it is hereby further ordered, by said Court, that said Master Russell will also ascertain and report how much the value of the property, covered by said mortgage has been enhanced, since it came into the hands of, and has been held by, the Trustees under said mortgage, by an appropriation of the earnings of said property, covered by said mortgage, for that purpose; and whether the Trustees under said mortgage have been guilty of waste in respect to said property, and if so, which of said Trustees, and to what extent, and in what respect, and whether before or after the breach of the condition of said mortgage, by the non-payment of interest on said bonds so-called.

And it is further ordered that said Master and Commissioner respectively give notice of the time and place of said hearings before them, by causing notice thereof to be published once in each week for the space of ninety days before such time of hearing, in the following named newspapers to wit: The Burlington Weekly Times, the Vermont Watchman and State Journal, printed at Montpelier, Vt.; the Boston Daily Post, printed at Boston, in the State of Massachusetts; the New-York Daily Times, printed in the City of New-York; and the United States Gazette, printed in the city of Philadelphia.

And it is ordered that said cause stand over until the coming in of said reports for further directions therein without prejudice to either party.

And it is ordered, also, that either party may read, on the hearing before said Master and Commissioner, the evidence already on file in said cause, and may adduce such further evidence as may be material to the questions hereby referred.

Done in Court this 13th day of December, A. D. 1858.

MUSICAL.

THE DRIGGS' PATENT PIANO-FORTE,
OR THE VIOLIN PIANO.
It is built upon an iron frame, or bed plate, entirely separate from the case, thus relieving the sound-boards and every other part of the instrument from the strain.
It will remain in tune for many months, and when the strings are settled even for years.
It has convex sounding-boards above and below, like the Violin, which are connected together in the same manner, thus making the entire instrument a vibratory shell.
It has greater depth and fullness of tone, and its sostenuto, or power of sustaining the tone, has never been equaled, except by instruments of the violin class.
It improves with age and use, becoming more vibratory, and the tone purer and more sonorous.
It is the best piano-forte existing, and is recommended by Gottschalk, Thalberg, and many other celebrated artists and professors. Sole agents,
WM. HALL & SON, No. 543 Broadway.
Between Spring and Prince sts.

INDIA RUBBER GOODS.

CAUTION TO DEALERS IN ELASTIC FABRICS CONTAINING THREADS OR SHEETS OF VULCANIZED RUBBER.—The undersigned gives notice that he holds an absolute conveyance from Charles Goodyear of the exclusive right to use vulcanized rubber prepared according to said Goodyear's patent of June 15, 1844, in all elastic fabrics the elasticity of which is due to the shirring or corrugating the sheets or threads of such fabrics, and in all woven, braided, cemented or sewed fabrics, or such as are or can be covered or protected on one or both sides with substances other than rubber, and in all smooth, elastic shirred goods; and also to make and sell India-rubber threads of vulcanized rubber, and all threads or sheets of rubber which are or can be made or finished by union with or to be covered by fibrous substances. And he hereby gives notice that he is ready to supply the trade with all such fabrics at reasonable rates.

His attention has been called to an advertisement signed by William Judson, in which said Judson claims to be the owner of the right to import and sell such goods.

The undersigned is satisfied that this pretence on the part of said Judson is a fraud upon the public, and is made for the purpose of injuring his business. Said Judson has never exhibited his pretended titles to any Court, or to the public, and he does not afford the undersigned any opportunity of commencing any suit against him in order to test these titles. Charles Goodyear could not give any valid titles to said Judson, or to anyone else, after the titles he had conveyed to the undersigned. The question decided by Judge Ingersoll, in New-York, upon a preliminary motion and partial presentation of the case, was not decisive of the merits of the title of the undersigned, and the card published by said Judson shows that the Court was imposed upon by a pretended title in a third party, which said Judson now claims to have been in himself for the last six years.

The undersigned therefore cautions all dealers in articles of the above descriptions, containing vulcanized rubber, that no such goods can be lawfully sold in this country without his license and stamp, and that he shall prosecute, to the extent of the law, all persons infringing upon his said rights. Orders solicited, and rights to use granted, by
HORACE H. DAY,

The Royal Speech Proroguing Parliament.

The Peace Article in the Moniteur.

The Steamship Glasgow, Capt. THOMPSON, from Glasgow on the morning of April 20, arrived at this port yesterday at noon.

She brings newspaper details of the intelligence brought to Quebec by the North Briton, from Liverpool on the same day, and thence forwarded by telegraph.

The Speech of the Queen on the Prorogation of Parliament.

Parliament was prorogued on the 19th ult., by commission. The Lord Chancellor read her Majesty's speech, which was as follows:

My Lords and Gentlemen:

We are commanded by her Majesty to inform you that it is her Majesty's intention forthwith to dissolve the present Parliament, with a view to enable her people to express, in the mode prescribed by the Constitution, their opinion on the state of public affairs.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

We are commanded by Her Majesty to thank you for the wise liberality with which you have granted the necessary supplies for the military and naval defences of the country, and for the provision which you have made for the exigencies of the other branches of the public service during the interval which must elapse before the estimates for the year can be considered by the new Parliament, which Her Majesty will direct to be immediately called.

My Lords and Gentlemen:

Her Majesty commands us to inform you that the appeal which she is about to make to her people has been rendered necessary by the difficulties experienced in carrying on the public business of the country, as indicated by the fact that, within little more than a year, two successive Administrations have failed to retain the confidence of the House of Commons, and Her Majesty prays that, under the blessing of Divine Providence, the step which she is about to take may have the effect of facilitating the discharge of her high functions, and of enabling her to conduct the government of the country under the advice of a Ministry possessed of the confidence of her Parliament and people.

THE WAR QUESTION.

Preparations for War in every Direction—The Pacific Article in the Moniteur—Views of the London Press upon the Ministerial Explanations.

The second edition of the London Herald, of the 19th, says: "We are enabled to state that Sardinia has agreed to the general and simultaneous disarmament, preliminary to the Congress. To this disarmament she was invited by France and England, and her adhesion removes the most serious obstacle to peace.

According to the advices from Piedmont, the war preparations in that country, as well as in France, require some further weeks of active effort for full completion.

The London Times, in a leader, argues in favor of the formation of a National Guard in this country.

The English garrisons in the Mediterranean will be promptly reinforced. Probably several of the second battalions of regiments serving in India will be employed in this service.

The news published in a telegraphic dispatch, to the effect that English ships were about to be sent to Trieste, is altogether false.

Advices received from Rome are to the 16th ult. The departure of volunteers increased rapidly—250 young men left Perouse for Piedmont.

THE PEACE ARTICLE OF THE "MONITEUR."

The Moniteur of April 19 contains an article on the present state of affairs. The different European Powers have expressed themselves on the following four points as the bases of the Congress:

1. To determine the means by which Peace may be maintained between Austria and Piedmont.

2. The manner in which the evacuation of the States of the Church by the French and Austrian troops may be best effected.

3. Whether it is expedient to introduce Reform in the administration of those and the other Italian States, the administration of which may present defects evidently tending to create a permanent and dangerous state of uneasiness and discontent, and [illegible].

4. To substitute for the treaties between Austria and the Italian Duchies, a confederation amongst themselves, of the States of Italy, for their mutual protection, as well internal as external. Austria has since demanded the disarming of Sardinia, and then subsequently proposed a general disarmament. England modified Austria's proposal to the sense that it should only be necessary to admit the principle of a general disarmament, reserving the manner of regulating its execution until after the assembling of the Congress. France believes that Piedmont could not be invited to disarm if she is not to be represented at the Congress. The English Government having insisted upon it, France, willing to prove her conciliatory disposition, has promised to request Piedmont to disarm, on condition that Piedmont and the other Italian States shall be invited to take part in the Congress.

The article goes on to cite historical precedents, and hopes that this proposal will meet with the unanimous consent of the Powers. France has even added that she is disposed to assent to a disarmament previous to the Congress. Everything, therefore, justifies the belief that, even if all difficulties are not yet removed, a definite understanding will ere long be established, and that no further obstacles will oppose the assembling of the Congress.

THE RECENT MINISTERIAL EXPLANATION TOUCHING THE PEACE QUESTION—FURTHER CRITICISMS OF THE LONDON PRESS.

The Morning Post complains of Ministers' partiality towards Austria, and deprecates the ominous mutterings towards the close of Mr. DISRAELI's speech, as to the part which England might be called to play in a coming struggle. The Post observes that Ministers are about to go to the country in an inextricable dilemma. There are two great questions at issue—their diplomacy and their reform measure—and on one or other, if not on both, they must incur an inevitable condemnation. If peace be secured to the Continent, then the cause of domestic reform will assume still greater magnitude, and will attract still more general attention. If, on the other hand, war be yet destined to result, their cry of "MALMESBURY and peace" will prove their disgrace. In either case, therefore, the Parliament they are about to convoke must record its definite judgment upon them.

The Morning Herald extols the bold and intelligible foreign policy of Ministers, which has met with the cordial approval of statesmen of all shades of opinion; for, according to our cotemporary, "it was only in minor points of detail, and not in matters of principle, that either Lord CLARENDON in the Upper, or Lord PALMERSTON in the Lower House, ventured to differ from the views expressed." The Herald argues against the admission of Sardinia to the Congress, but insists upon her disarming in conjunction with Austria and France.

The Chronicle thinks nothing conclusive passed last night one way or the other.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

THE LATE POISONING CASE—INTERESTING TO TEA-DRINKERS.—Some months ago, it will be remembered, a colored family, residing in Nutra-alley, were taken sick immediately after drinking tea purchased at a corner grocery, when all the symptoms of their having been poisoned were apparent. The contents of the teapot were sent to Dr. JAS. J. ALLINGHAM, at the Brooklyn City Hospital, and yesterday he reported the following analysis: "Two samples of tea leaves. These were genuine and unmixed with other agents, except one or two leaves of a plant unknown to me. One sample of brown sugar. This was a very fine specimen of unrefined sugar; no deleterious agent was detected in it. A fluid labeled tea. This contained all the natural constituents found in the tea plant, with an unusually large quantity of tarsaic acid and a minute quantity of arsenious acid, which was detected and recognized by the following tests: Ammonious sulphate of copper gave an apple green precipitate; nitrate of silver gave a yellow or canary colored precipitate. The green precipitate was collected and dried. Upon being heated in a glass tube it sublimed and was deposited as a resplendent crystalline ring. Part of this crystalline ring was then obtained and was mixed with a proper reductive agent in a glass tube, which was then heated and a metallic ring was deposited in the cool part of the tube; a perceptible garlicky odor was apparent during this process. This metallic ring was proved to be arsenic. The remainder of the crystalline deposit was dissolved in boiling water, and gave the usual evidences of being arsenious acid. The precipitate and sublimate were all examined with care, and proved in every respect to be arsenical compounds."

ANOTHER WIFE POISONING CASE.—A man named OAKLEY BEEMER was arrested Sunday night last on a warrant issued by Coroner HORTON on a complaint preferred by HENRY STONE, for poisoning his wife at No. 160 Navy-street on the 24th of February last. The complainant is a son of deceased by a former husband, and bases his complaint principally upon statements made by her just previous to death. Her attending physician says that he saw no indications of foul play. That her lungs were diseased and she drank to excess, so that she had frequent attacks of delirium tremens. During these turns she always accused some one of having poisoned her. The body, which was buried in Calvary Cemetery, was disinterred yesterday, and an inquest will be held to-day. The accused has been committed to jail to await the result of the investigation.

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF COTTON BY FIRE, AT GREENPOINT—OTHER FIRES.—At 11¼ o'clock A. M., yesterday, a large quantity of cotton, which had been spread to dry on a vacant lot on Franklin and Washington streets, Greenpoint, was accidentally set on fire, and nearly the whole of it was destroyed or damaged. The cotton belonged to Messrs. GRAVES, WEED & Co., No. 100 Wall-street, New-York, and was valued at $22,000. Two small houses, one frame and the other brick, on the same lot, and both occupied by DANIEL MILTEN, were also destroyed. There was no insurance upon any of the property. The fire is said to have been communicated by a bonfire which some boys had kindled in the vicinity. At 12½ o'clock yesterday noon a fire was discovered bursting through the roof of a house corner of Smith and Wyckoff streets, owned by Mr. NELLIS and occupied by several families. The fire was extinguished without much damage to the premises.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The new Board of Supervisors will meet in the County Jail at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The Democrats have nominated Supervisor DEL VECCHIO, of the Sixth Ward, for Chairman, and he doubtless will be elected, as that party have a clear working majority in the Board.

COMMON COUNCIL.—The Democratic Aldermen having settled their differences, it is understood that the Mayor has consented to call a meeting of the Common Council on Thursday evening next.

BITTEN BY A DOG.—A boy named JOHN KEMPF, son of GIBSON KEMPF, was attacked on Moore-street, yesterday, by a watch-dog, and so badly injured that he probably will not recover.

STEAM FIRE ENGINES.—Several steam fire engines were tested yesterday in the Eastern District and gave general satisfaction.

Political Movements in Kansas.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, K. T., Saturday, April 23, 1859.

A large and enthusiastic Convention was held in this city to-day, for the purpose of organizing the Opposition forces preparatory to the assembling of the Constitutional Convention, which meets in June. The meeting was ably addressed by Hon. MARCUS J. PARROTT, our Delegate to Congress, who administered a scathing rebuke to the Administration, for its unparalleled impotency, prodigality, and sectional devotion to the interests of the South. THOMAS EWING Jr., also addressed the Convention, presenting some startling facts, which called, in tones not to be misunderstood, for the organization of a Party that would have the boldness to come out and repudiate, not only in the streets and behind the counter, but at the ballot-box, this Administration which had so effectually proven itself the personification of recklessness and depravity. The Administration had always fought Kansas, and could it be expected that the people of Kansas would now kiss the rod that had so severely and so repeatedly visited them with stripes? It was fair to presume that Democratic Administrations, if in power, would treat other Territories to be organized hereafter precisely as those of PIERCE and BUCHANAN had treated Kansas; and in view of this presumption, the speaker called on the people to organize with vigilance against any Party, by whatever name it might style itself, which affiliated with the Administration in trying to crush out the Free State interests of Kansas.

You can depend upon it, the Democracy will find strong opposition to contend with here. The wounds which the Territory has received at the hands of that Party, are too fresh and too aggravating to admit of much compromise now. * * *

A Boy of Twelve Years old Convicted of Manslaughter.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Before the Hon. Judge Davies.

In this Court, yesterday morning, a singular case was called up for trial. The murder and manslaughter charges are ordinarily sent hither from the General Sessions, and thus the heavier grades of crime are constantly before the Court, but very seldom does it happen that so young a prisoner, charged with so weighty an offence, is prosecuted. The case alluded to was this: Thomas Miller, a boy aged twelve years, was indicted for manslaughter in the first degree. On the 7th of March last he stabbed another boy, whose name was William McElroy, in a shoemaker's store in Twenty-seventh-street, where they were both employed. From the evidence adduced on the trial, it appeared that the deceased, McElroy, was a source of continual annoyance to the prisoner, Miller, and that he allowed no occasion of aggravation to slip without its being duly improved. On the day in question, he annoyed Miller by seizing his wax-ends, removing his tools, and constituting himself an excessive and unremitting grievance. In a fit of anger, induced by these repeated teasings, the boy Miller stabbed the boy McElroy with his awl inflicting a mortal wound in the anterior portion of the chest, on the left side, over the fifth rib, which penetrated the pericardium at its junction with the cartilage, death being caused by internal hemorrhage. Such was the testimony of Drs. Ferguson and Gallagher. Counsel for defence, Mr. H. L. Clinton, contended that the little boy, almost a child, who stood before the jury, the youngest prisoner, charged with so grave an offence, that they had ever seen, had only acted in self defence if he willingly inflicted the blow; but that probably the dealing of the wound was altogether accidental, taking place in the scuffle between the children. The jury, after some deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the fourth degree, and Judge DAVIES sentenced the little fellow to the House of Refuge. He will remain there till he is 21 years old—that is, till the year 1868. The District-Attorney stated, in Court, that he had previously stabbed a boy, though not dangerously; and if phrenology be true, the occipital regions of his skull are somewhat of a dangerous character.

Wm. H. Drake, jointly indicted with Joseph Coburn and Patrick Duffy for a felonious assault on Policeman Davidson, on the 8th December, in Prince-street, was placed on trial. Coburn, it will be recollected, pleaded guilty the week before last. Drake and Duffy demanded separate trials, and on yesterday Drake came before a Jury, who, after hearing the evidence and the argument of his counsel, ex-Judge Phillips, acquitted him, under direction of the Judge, who remarked that the testimony was not sufficiently strong to justify a conviction. An order was then made discharging Duffy from custody.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—MAY 3.

Before Judge Betts.

The United States vs. One parcel marked "John Foggen," containing embroideries, &c.—This was a proceeding to forfeit the goods, on the ground that the examiners, on opening the package, found in it sixty-four lace collars which were not mentioned on the invoice. The claimant alleged that he knew nothing of any laces which were not on the invoice, that he did not put in any, nor know of any being put in, and he did not claim the sixty-four collars.

There were two points of interest which arose on the trial. The claimant himself was put on the stand as a witness, Judge BETTS saying that on the strength of a reported decision of Judge Nelson, he should allow the examination, and give the District-Attorney the benefit of the exception, that the question might be brought before him on more solemn argument before it was to be considered as settled in the Court that such a question of evidence was a "rule of evidence" within the meaning of the statute.

The claimant had petitioned the Secretary of the Treasury for a remission of the forfeiture of these goods, setting out the facts of the case and denying any intention of fraud or any knowledge of the sixty-four collars, but admitting the forfeiture as required by the Remission act. This sworn petition was offered in evidence by the Government, who claimed that having admitted that the goods were forfeited the claimant could not now prove that they were not. The Judge decided that the claimant having so petitioned could not prove that there was no intention of fraud, but he allowed him to give evidence to show that the sixty-four collars were not in the package when made up in Liverpool.

The jury found a verdict for the United States, condemning the goods.

For the United States, Mr. Hunt and Mr. Dwight; for claimant, Messrs. Benedict, Burr & Benedict.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—MAY 3.

Before Judge Nelson.

James Benkard et al. vs. Augustus Schell.—This case, involving the payment of duties on mousseline delaines, was given to the Jury last night, with directions to bring in a sealed verdict this morning. The Jury, however, were unable to agree, and were discharged about 11 o'clock last night.

For plaintiffs, Mr. Griswold and Mr. Evarts; for defendant, Mr. Hunt and Mr. O'Conor.

Henry E. Dibblee et al. vs. William Furniss.—This case was taken up this morning. It has been tried once before, when the Jury disagreed. It is an action of trover to recover the value of goods sold by the defendant for one Parmlee, who had stolen them from the plaintiff's store, which was under his. The case was fully reported on its former trial.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Before Judges Roosevelt, Ingraham and Peabody.

Ordered—That hereafter 30 causes be placed on the Day Calendar at Circuit and General Terms.

Adams vs. Sullivan—Motion to open order dismissing the appeal denied.

Campbell & Moody vs. Thomas Dobson—Judgment affirmed, with costs.

SPECIAL TERM.

Before Justice Davies.

Joseph Sandford, &c. vs. Noah Norris et al.—Judgment for plaintiff for $864 07, and interest from March 25, 1859, and costs, with allowance of $50.

John A. Tarrant et al. vs. Wm. S. Regnard.—Judgment for plaintiffs with costs.

Henry A. Thomas and wife vs. Alfred Wagstaff et al.—The principles of this case were minutely reported in Wagstaff vs. Lowerre, 23 Barbour, 200. The money received from the City Corporation for lands taken for public use, must be considered real estate and go to the heirs. This amount with the lands still in the estate, is estimated at $111,000. The whole must be divided equally. The matter is referred to Stephen Cambreleng, Esq., to take and state the accounts upon the principles stated in the opinion, and judgment to be entered in conformity to his report.

Petition of Abm. L. Earle, to vacate assessment for paving Manhattan-street.—Judgment declaring proceedings irregular and void, and assessment made vacated for reasons stated in matter of Lexington-avenue.

Joseph Maukin et al. vs. Andrew P. Carpenter.—Judgment for plaintiffs; costs of both parties to be paid out of funds in hands of assignee.

In re Assessment for filling lots in Forty-fifth street, between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues.—Assessment imposed and lien erected must be vacated and set aside.

Petition of Fletcher et al. to vacate assessment for paving Lexington-avenue, between Thirty-fourth and Forty-second streets.—Judgment that assessment and lien be set aside, &c.

CHAMBERS.

Before Justice Clerke.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

DR. O. PHELPS BROWN,

The Great Curer of Consumption, was for several years so badly afflicted by Dyspepsia, that for a part the time he was confined to his bed. He was eventually cured by a prescription furnished him by a young clairvoyant girl. This prescription, given him by a mere child, while in a state of trance, has cured everybody who has taken it, never having failed once. It is equally as sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia. The ingredients may be found in any drug store. I will send this valuable prescription to any person on the receipt of one stamp to pay postage. Address Dr. O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 21 Grand-st., Jersey City, N. J.

THE CERTAINTY OF BEING SAFE.

* * * * * * * * * * *

One-half of the pleasure of a long or short trip upon the water, or upon a railroad which runs over bridges, is comprised in the feeling that you cannot be drowned. If you have a family in company, and you know that it is also safe, you are complacently careless about all accident and emergency. All this feeling and actuality of safety upon the water is conferred upon men, women and children by the infallible life-preserving garments, manufactured by the Delano Life-preserving Coat and Vest Co., No. 256 Broadway. These garments can be worn as ordinary clothing, and cost no more.

TUESDAY, May 3—P. M.

The excitement on the Share list of the Stock Exchange, noticed for some days past, continued through the early dealings to-day. The movement in New-York Central attracted most attention. Before the formal meeting of the Brokers, 75 ⅌ cent. was paid on cash delivery. At the first Board the sales were heavy in amount, at 74¼@74⅛ ⅌ cent., cash. But after the adjournment, the price fell off rapidly to 73 ⅌ cent., on the rumor, or reality, that the Broker of the steamboat party had borrowed 1,300 or 1,500 shares in certificates not previously on the Street, with which he had determined to break down the "corner" in the cash stock. The price next fluctuated from 73 to 73½ ⅌ cent., and then back to 73 ⅌ cent., cash, and 72, seller 60 days, and finally 73½ ⅌ cent. for delivery to-morrow—the precise closing figure of Saturday afternoon. The fluctuations in Chicago and Rock Island shares were scarcely less marked, although the same scarcity of cash stock was at no time felt, nor any present effort made to render it scarce. The first price was 61⅛ ⅌ cent. cash, 59 seller 60 days. The last transactions, 60¼@60 sales, and 60 ⅌ cent. bid for Wednesday. Galena advanced at one time to 65½, and closed 65 ⅌ cent. Toledo rose to 25¾ ⅌ cent., closing 25½; Harlem Preferred, to 39¼, closing 38¾@39 ⅌ cent.; Pacific Mail, to 79, closing 78; Hudson River, to 32½, firm; Michigan Guaranteed, to 33½, closing 33; and Panama, 122¾@122⅞. The general market on the speculative shares closed firm for cash Stock, but with a disposition on the part of the Bear account to renew contract sales at lower prices.

In United States Stocks the sales are of a retail nature. The new registered fives of 1874 brought 105½ ⅌ cent. while the coupon bonds sold at 104½ ⅌ cent. State Stocks were steadier than yesterday, the market taking $80,000 Missouris at 87½ cash, and 87 seller's option. In Railway Bonds, there was a further demand for New York Central Sixes at 91½ ⅌ cent ex-dividend, and an additional recovery of 1½ ⅌ cent. in Erie Fourth Mortgages, which brought 46½ ⅌ cent.

The market for Money remains quiet, and the rates of, and facilities for, Discounts, both at Bank and on the Street, as easy as at any time during the season—the range being 4½ to 7 ⅌ cent. for first class bills, according to date. Demand loans are 4@5 ⅌ cent. The additional sales of Exchange to-day for the Boston mail were at 110 ⅌ cent. for Southern Bank bills, and at 110½ for standard names on the spot. Paris, f.5.12½@f.5.10. Some bills on London, payable on demand were done at 110½ ⅌ cent. The Customs paid into the Sub Treasury amount to $129,000. The net disbursements are $9,000 short of this sum. The balance this afternoon is $6,450,223.

The Commercial of this afternoon remarks as follows of the Delaware and Hudson and Pennsylvania Coal suits:

"The Supreme Court, in General Term, have reversed the decision of Judge D[illegible] in favor of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company against the Pennsylvania Coal Company. The decision does not, as stated in a morning paper, involve any sum of money, but merely the construction of an agreement, in relation to which suit was brought in the first instance by the Pennsylvania Coal Company. It was then decided against them and this decision is now reversed. The suit in relation to back tolls, amounting to about $[illegible],000, is still in progress."

MESSRS. WRIGHT & Co., in their circular of this week, remark:—The total now in the ports is 3,463,000 bales; showing an excess over last year to same time of 752,000 bales. By telegraph from New-Orleans, the week's receipts ending 30th ult., were only 12,000 bales, against 24,000 last year; and in Mobile, 6,500 against 6,400. The week's receipts as made up in our next table, will not, probably, be more than half of the quantity received the same week last season. The rapid clearances of ships in New-Orleans, swell the export to Great Britain to a large figure, viz: 82,000 bales for the week, and increase the excess over last year to 258,000 bales, and over 1856 to 60,000 bales. To France the export has been actually 4,000 bales for the week, but the New-Orleans Price Current has deducted 3,300 for the cargo of the ship Bamburg which put back, discharged, and had her cotton partly burned, so that the figures only show 1,000 bales. To other foreign ports, 14,000 has cleared against the same amount last year.

GENERAL MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, May 3, 1859—6 P. M.

The reported receipts of the principal kinds of Produce, since our last, have been 36 bbls. Ashes, 6,282 bbls. and 240 sacks Flour, 390 bushels Wheat, 9,380 bushels Corn, 1,750 bushels Oats, 374 bushels Malt, 2,128 pkgs. of Provisions, 355 bbls. Whisky.

ASHES—Are in demand, at $5 75 for Pots and Pearls ⅌ 100 ℔s.

COFFEE—Has been in fair request to-day, and sales have been made of 100 mats green Java at 14c.; 75 bags Laguayra at 12c.@12¼c.; 600 bags Maracaibo, and 155 bags Jamaica on private terms; 300 bags Rio at 11c.@12¼c.; 450 bags do. and Skimmings at 11¼c.; and 100 bags Cape at 10½c. ⅌ ℔. Stock of all kinds in first hands this morning, 61,458 pkgs., including, according to Messrs. WM. SCOTT & SON, 3,150 bags and 42,122 mats Java, 7,342 bags Rio, 5,900 Maracaibo, 1,300 bags Laguayra, and 844 bags Jamaica.

COTTON—Has been more inquired for at previous quotations. Sales have been reported, to-day, of 1,800 bales, part in transitu, but including lots from store, at 12c. for Middling Upland; 12¼c. for do. Orleans, and proportionate rates for other kinds, ⅌ ℔.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The market has been somewhat unsettled to-day for State and Western Flour. At the opening of business, holders generally advanced their asking prices 5c.@10c. ⅌ bbl., and in some instances succeeded in making sales at such a rise. Subsequently buyers manifested less eagerness to purchase, and many holders appeared to be disposed to meet the requirements of the trade at yesterday's quotations. Hence prices closed without any remarkable improvement, while business was less active. The sales comprised 10,800 bbls.

Unsound Flour, ⅌ bbl	$3 75@$5 20

Southern Flour is pretty briskly inquired for to-day at advancing prices. Sales, since our last, 4,300 bbls., in lots, at $6 35@$6 85 for mixed and straight brands, and $6 90@$8 75 for low fancy to very choice extra brands, ⅌ bbl. Canadian is selling slowly at $5 50@$7 45 for extra, ⅌ bbl.; a lot of 50 bbls. changed hands at the latter rate. Rye Flour is in demand, at $3 70@$4 55 for fine to Superfine, ⅌ bbl. Corn Meal is more sought after at $3 90@$4 for Jersey; $4 35@$4 40 for Brandywine, ⅌ bbl., and $19 75@$20 for the latter, in puncheons.

GRAIN—Wheat has been in good request, at rising prices; sales have been reported of 20,500 bushels, including some prime White Western, at $1 75; good to very choice Red and mixed Western, at $1 50@$1 55, chiefly at $1 50@$1 51; fair to very choice White Kentucky, at $1 85@$1 98, the latter rate for about 100 bush., ⅌ bush. Corn is more active, and is dearer; sales have been reported of 60,000 bushels, at 86c. for good old mixed Western (subsequently holders refused 87c. for prime do.); 86c.@88c. for fair to prime round Yellow; 85c. for fair round White; 86c.@88c., for good to choice new Yellow Jersey and Southern; and 85c.@87c. for fair to prime new White Southern ⅌ bushel. Rye is quiet, being held at 85c.@88c. ⅌ bushel. Barley is less active and is heavy at 60c.@78c., for inferior to very choice State, Canadian and California, ⅌ bushel. Oats are in fair demand, including Canada at 58c.@59c.; Western at 54½c.@58c.; State at 53½c.@56c.; Jersey and Pennsylvania at 50c.@54c.; Southern at 47c.@53c., ⅌ bushel.

PROVISIONS—Pork is more inquired for, chiefly for future delivery, and new Mess is dearer. Sales have been reported of 6,000 bbls., in lots, at $16 30@$16 40 for new Mess, here; unascertained prices for (4,000 bbls.) do., deliverable in June, July and August; $16@$16 12½ for old Mess; and $12 50@$12 75 for prime, ⅌ bbl. Cut Meats are plenty and depressed, including Hams, at 8c.@9¼c.; and Shoulders at 5¾c.@6¼c. ⅌ ℔. Bacon is selling moderately, at from 8c.@10¼c. ⅌ ℔. Lard is freely offered and is declining. Sales 750 tcs. and bbls., at 11¼c.@11½c., chiefly within the range, ⅌ ℔. Beef is in good request at buoyant rates. Ship Sheffield, (whaler, of Cold Spring,) Green, Honolulu 180 ds., with oil to J. H. Jones, of Cold Spring, L. I. April 30, lat. 37 22, lon. 71 58, saw bark Tivola, stg. S.; May 1, 80 miles S. S. E. of Sandy Hook, saw whaling-bark Santa America, all for New-Bedford, from Sandwich Islands. April 28, lat. 29 55, lon. 69 15, experienced three severe shocks of an earthquake, the first of which was the most severe, occurring at 4:35 A. M., the subsequent ones at 5:40 and 6:10 A. M. Capt. Green, who on several occasions has met with similar phenomena at sea, says that these, in time of continuance and also in loudness of accompanying noise and the peculiar trembling motion communicated to the ship far exceeded all others he ever felt. The mate on watch at the time of the first shock reported that the sea for some time previous presented the appearance of a tide rip. The time occupied by the first shock was variously estimated from ¾ to 1½ minutes. The noise might be aptly compared to that of a heavily-loaded wagon or cart driven rapidly over a plank-road. All the sleepers on board were startled from their slumbers.

Ship Free Trade, Stover, Calcutta, left Sand Heads Jan. 10, with linseed to R. P. Buck & Co. Feb. 16, lat. 27 56 S., lon. 50 14 E., during a gale from eastward, with heavy squalls, split all three topsails, mainsail, topgallantsail, topmast staysail, and broke mizzen topgallantyard. March 12, lat. 21 18 S., lon. 16 W., boarded Br. ship Blenheim from Calcutta Jan 7 for London. April 23, lat. 35 04 N., lon. 72 W., in a heavy gale from S. W. to S., twisted the head of the rudder so as to render it useless. The weather continued bad, with heavy sea, until 26th, when becoming moderate, got a tiller rigged in the after part of the rudder, near the water. April 28, off Great Egg Harbor, experienced a gale from N. E. to E. N. E., which continued through most of the 29th. April 11, Frank Staples, a seaman, of Memel, Germany, died.

Ship Resolute, Holt, Penang Jan. 16, St. Helena March 19, with mdse. to Moorewood & Co. April 1, lat. 24 7 S., lon. 51 26 W., spoke Br. ship Falcon, from Liverpool for Rio Janeiro, 53 ds. out, and supplied her with water, she having lost hers in a gale.

Ship Graham's Polly, Norton, Antwerp Feb. 16, and the Downs March 21, with mdse. to Laytin & Hurlbut. In lat. 44 40, lon. 49 30, passed a large iceberg. Has experienced very heavy weather.

Ship Rochambeau, (of Thomaston,) Stackpole, Havre March 5, with mdse. and 137 passengers to Boyd & Hincken. In lat. 42, lon. 40, took a gale from W., lasted 15 ds.; split sails, stove water casks, &c. Crossed the Banks in lat. 33 20; lon. 50, saw a large iceberg.

Ship Thirty-one States, (of Camden, Me.,) Smart, Liverpool 41 ds., with mdse. to master. Has had heavy weather the entire passage, lost foretopmast, fore and main topgallantmasts, split sails, &c.

Ship Donau, (Ham.,) Meyer, Hamburg 24 ds., with mdse. and 122 passengers to Kunhardt & Co. Crossed the Banks in lat. 45 30, saw no ice.
